

3 MAY 8
COPY - 1956

The Chemawa American

Printed at Chemawa, Oregon, and Devoted to the Interests of Indian Education

Vol. XXIII

Wednesday, November 10, 1920

No. 6

INDUSTRIAL ITEMS

The garden continues to supply vegetables for use in the students' kitchen. Also apples, as many as can be had.

The carpenters have added the surfacer to the list of machines installed. Next comes the rip saw and then the jointer. Our shop will soon be well equipped.

If you think the bakers are confined to making good bread, just step in on the day they are making cookies or pies. These boys are a busy lot and their work speaks for itself.

The ton of cheat seed that is being sowed on the lake to make hay next year we hope will not live up to the common meaning of the word. We expect an excellent forage crop from this seed.

The tractor is pronounced a great success in digging the crop of potatoes now being harvested, as it is steady and does not get tired. Considering the season our potatoes are turning out fairly well.

The blacksmiths have been very busy shaping the plates and making the bolts for trusses in the roof of the new machine shop. More lockers are being repaired, and more beds moved and overhauled.

The plumbers are gaining some valuable experience in making heating coils. They have just finished one for the stove at the green house. The washer repaired by the plumbers and engineers is again in service.

It is not always the dairy boys who leave the gate open. The boys who haul trash are also forgetful at times. Remember, the gate is put there to close the hole in the fence. If you leave the gate open you destroy the use of the fence in that place.

The new pump for feeding the boilers at the power plant is being installed. It is a fine new pump and will be a great addition to our equipment. Since the installation of the new steel stack there is a great difference in the steaming of boilers Nos. 5 and 6 and also a great saving in coal consumed by these two boilers. We consider it money well spent.

A visit to the tailor shop recently showed an example of clear gain to one of the boys in this department. One of the boys obtained work on the highway last summer. Instead of doing as some others have done and spending his money immediately, he saved it, and with a part of it purchased materials to make himself a suit. Under the able direction of Mr. James he has made a suit of clothes worth not less than $50, if purchased, has gained valuable experience in his trade, and demonstrated his ability to use good common sense. This young man is accepting the education offered at Chemawa.

ACADEMIC NOTES

The sophomores had a written test last week on the history of the world war.

The Freshies are going to give a Thanksgiving program on Thanksgiving day.

The sophomore mathematic class is studying Stocks and Bonds. It is very interesting.

The engineers were busy putting up the new Fairbanks boiler feed pump on Wednesday.

White uniforms are being made at the sewing room for the girls who work in the Teachers' Club.

The first year vocational class girls are taking domestic art under the direction of Mrs. Canfield.

The Freshies have had their first class-room program and all the members who took part did well.

The domestic science will serve a dinner soon for anyone who wishes to come. Tickets are on sale at 75cts. a plate.

The Freshies had a class meeting Tuesday night and selected their class colors, green and white, and motto, "Loyalty."

The Freshmen class is the largest in the school this year, including the prevocationals. There are about 80 pupils in the class.

The class of '23 is very glad to have Eneas J. Hines back in the class for he is a good student as well as an all-around athlete.

Loyalty is our motto. We mean to be loyal to our school, our superintendent, and all our teachers, and above all, to the Red and White.

The eighth grade class has already finished the American History course for this semester and are now taking up the history of the late world war.

The second team football players, known as the "Hotshots," have a strong little team. They are fast and can carry the pigskin. They are hoping to get another game soon.