

LOCAL

Miss McDowell, Mrs. Brickell and Virginia were dinner guests of Superintendent and Mrs. Hall on Sunday.

Still the new pupils arrive, causing the matron and disciplinarian to exert their ingenuity to the utmost to find proper quarters for them.

Several of our Chemawa students and employes attended the big football game held at Corvallis between the Oregon University and Oregon Agricultural College on Saturday.

The A division of the Sophies had a program period last Friday and gave a brief entertainment which would be a credit to a class of even higher rank. The numbers were all well selected and well prepared.

Mrs. George Fitzpatrick, from Siletz, was a visitor last week. She was most heartily welcomed by her daughter Frances of the Junior class and by her pleasant interest made many friends while here. She is a former student of Chemawa.

Father Gall will hold services tomorrow (Thanksgiving) morning at 9 o'clock for all Catholic children. This good Father is ever mindful of his charges at Chemawa and his kindly endeavors are appreciated by all.

Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick, Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Salem, delivered a very strong address to the Protestant students Sunday afternoon last. It was one of those sound and practical talks which are appreciated by our students. Miss McCracken, of Salem, sang a solo. It was a profitable afternoon.

Bright and early tomorrow morning our football team will depart for Goldendale, Wash., where they will play the strong squad of the American Legion. From reports of the Goldendale team, and what we know of the qualifications of our own boys, we predict considerable Thanksgiving diversion for the sport-loving Goldendaleites.

Mr. Schwartz, Miss Barnes and Mr. Glass of the Copper River country, Alaska, were guests of Chemawa last week. Two little Alaskan girls, one of whom is the sister of Annie Miller, came with them to attend school. Mr. Schwartz is enroute to Washington, D. C., with the idea of interesting Congress to make larger appropriations for educational work in Alaska.

The Y.M.C.A. program given in the school auditorium on Thursday evening last for the combined benefit of the association and Christmas fund netted nearly $90, of this amount $75, was set aside for the Christmas fund. The entertainment was unique in every respect, consisting of unusually clever stunts and was most favorably commented on by all who attended. Miss Eakin and Miss Judd and the young men deserve no little credit for the success attained.

Miss Skipton entertained Supt. and Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Brewer and Mrs. Canfield at a well appointed dinner on Monday evening.

The chapel services on Sunday evening were of the usual high standard of excellence. The orchestra played a "Southern Episode" by Kuebler, Catherine Loftus gave "On the Judgment Day" as a reading, Cruz McDaniels played as a baritone solo "One Fleeting Hour" by Lee, the choir sang as a Thanksgiving anthem "O Lord, How Manifold are Thy Works" by Barnby, and Supt. Hall closed the session with a splendid talk on politeness, personal address and appearance. As is ever the case his talk was full of facts and carried suggestions and reminders of value to all. The evening was one of interest and profit.

ACADEMIC NOTES

The painters are painting the bakery shop.

The Freshies are doing nicely with their weekly programs.

Mr. Frank Martin of Nome, Alaska, visited his daughter Eva at Chemawa on Monday.

The engineers have just completed repairing No. 4 and 5 boilers and now will start repairing No. 2.

All the apples in the small orchard have been harvested. They expect to finish the large orchard soon.

Roy Courville is engine tender on the night shift at the engine house. He is very much interested in his work and is getting along fine.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The Annual Thanksgiving Vesper Service of the Y.M. and Y. W. C. A.s was held Sunday evening in the auditorium. The meeting was led by Fred Wilder and special music was furnished by the Y. W. C. A. chorus. A number of excellent talks were given by members of both Associations, on such topics as "What Chemawa has to be thankful for," "What the Y. M. and Y.W.C.A. have to be thankful for," "Thanksgiving as a habit," and "The expression of our thanks."

The students who attended Protestant service Sunday afternoon will not soon forget the splendid sermon given by Rev. Blain E. Kirkpatrick of the First Methodist church of Salem. His topic was, "Fishing for Whales." He spoke of the high ideals and almost impossible ambitions of young people, and expressed his admiration for youth because it dared to strive for the impossible. He spoke of education as one of the whales which young people are fishing for and stated that a strong Christian character was the greatest thing in life that any young man or young woman might strive to attain.