LITERARY SOCIETIES

Winona

The Winona Literary Society held a short session before the piano recital on Friday evening and transacted some necessary business. The last few minutes were spent in practicing some new songs and cheers.

Excelsiors

The Excelsior Literary Society met in Excelsior Hall on the evening of January 14th. After roll call, which the members responded to with quotations, the following program was rendered: Recitation, Ernest Hill; dialogue, Roy Sansaver and Dewey Sampson; jokes, John Chya; reading, Dallas Taylor; pen pictures, Albert Green; short story, Irving Hendrix. After the program society songs and yells were given.

Nonpareil

Friday evening, January fourteenth, the Nonpareils met for a business session. After all business was disposed of the following program was given: Society song by members; vocal duet, Ethel and Ione Henry; reading, Eleanor Hauk. Catherine Loftus gave a mandolin solo which was followed by a number of well chosen jokes and riddles by Olive Beebe. After singing some songs and giving some yells the Nonpareils adjourned.

A FINE RECITAL

Last Friday evening pupils and employees at Chemawa were favored with a rare musical treat in the nature of a piano recital by Mrs. Lillian Jeffreys Petri. Mrs. Petri has enjoyed and profited by many years of pianistic training in Europe and America under some of the world's most famous masters. She is a rare pianiste from any point of view—interpretation, artistry and technic. Added to the above she possesses a charming stage presence.

Quite a large audience had gathered in the auditorium to hear her and they were most enthusiastic and prodigal in their appreciation and applause of every number, each of which was a gem and rendered to perfection. Mrs. Petri gave a little interpretative talk before each number, which proved both interesting and profitable for all.

Supt. Hall was most happy in introducing Mrs. Petri and in voicing the appreciation of every-one that she was to give us such a delightful hour. He particularly called attention to her standing in the musical world. At the close of the program a large bouquet of roses was presented the artist by the employes and one of carnations from the student body. A warm welcome will always await Mrs. Petri whenever she can visit Chemawa.

U of O 27, CHEMAWA 18

In the first of a series of two games played at Eugene last week-end our varsity met defeat at the hands of the mighty Oregon five by a 27 to 18 score.

It was not an easy game for Oregon and so one-sided as the score would indicate, but close and hard fought throughout. During the first five minutes of play neither team was able to score and the half ended 16 to 13 in favor of the University.

Nix was the shining light for Chemawa and our highest point getter, scoring three field baskets and converting four out of five free throws, while Captain Durno of the University scored three field goals and converted 14 out of 15 free throws. Both teams registered 14 points from field goals.

The fast steady passing of our quintet somewhat baffled the University hoopers and kept them from piling up the big score they had anticipated. Our boys experienced unusual difficulty in locating the basket and on that account, and not for the lack of opportunities, were they unable to score.

U OF O 30—CHEMAWA 16

Thirty to sixteen indicates a one-sided score and sounds like a poor game and usually the defeated team is afraid to go home, but that is not so in our case. It is not a disgrace to be walloped by a team like Oregon, especially when that team jumps up on its pins and gets going like they did last Saturday night.

Although the score is somewhat lopsided, it was a real live, interesting game from start to finish; the ball went zip, boom, bang for twenty long minutes and when the first half ended the score stood 15 to 12 in favor of the University. They claim they earned it.

The second half opened up like wild fire and we exchanged basket for basket till the score stood 16 to 22 with five minutes to play, when we fell asleep and were not awakened till the final shot of the gun ended the game 30 to 16. Each man played a good, steady game and won the applause and admiration of the Eugene spectators; but, somehow Oregon had the stuff to put it over and we couldn't stop 'em.
