

LOCAL

Charles Buchert is the school barber and he is a busy fellow, too.

Ellen Wynn, prevocational, made all the cakes for Sunday night supper.

Roy Nuckolls is in charge of the paint shop during the absence of Mr. Sanders.

Nick Orloff and Jacob Mynuk, ex-students, spent the week end at Chemawa.

A letter has just been received from Annie Sexton, '20, from Tacoma, Washington, where she is now employed.

We are informed that Nick Orloff and Jacob Mynuk are now enroute to Cordova, Alaska, intent on making their fortunes. We hope they do.

Mr. Bettles speaks mighty well of the boys of his dairy detail. Although they are all little fellows they do the work in first-class style and in "jig time."

Edwin Liljegen, president of the senior class, is making a fine lot of furniture for display, perhaps at commencement. He is a good workman—a credit to himself and the school.

Miss Katherine Wilder and Miss Rose Goff, Chemawa graduates now holding positions in Portland, were visitors at the school during the past week. They are getting along nicely.

Mrs. Ollie E. Turner and little daughter left last week for their home in Humptulips, Washington, after a visit of some days with relatives at Chemawa. Mrs. Turner is a sister of Reginald and Robert Downie of Chemawa.

Catherine Wilder, class of '19, and Rose Goff, '20, were welcome visitors the past week. They are employed at the Waverly Baby Home in Portland. The superintendent of the Home speaks very highly of these young ladies.

Mr. Bent is devoting a good deal of his time each morning after breakfast drilling our raw recruits in the manual of arms. As soon as the weather settles outdoor drilling of our nine companies of cadets will begin. Chemawa is always justly proud of the fine appearance and accurate movements of the two battalions embracing our student body.

Miss Mollie V. Gaither, day school inspector in the Umatilla jurisdiction, is a visitor this week. Miss Gaither entered the Indian school work in 1886 and has been prominent in educational affairs. At one time she was principal at Chemawa. She also was superintendent of the government boarding school for girls at Springfield, South Dakota, until it was abolished last year. For ten years she was superintendent of outing at Carlisle.

Another demonstration dinner was given by a senior since last issue. This time by Miss Catherine Loftus. Catherine distinguished herself not only in faultlessly preparing and serving a splendid dinner to eight members of the faculty, but by her womanly modesty and gentle demeanor. As a hostess she stood out also. We congratulate Catherine on the success of her Domestic Science demonstration.

Eleanor Hauk, senior in high school, Hattie Martin, junior, won first places and will represent their respective classes (senior and junior) at the annual declamation contest to take place next month. Marguarite Chamberlin received second place for the juniors. We consider this achievement on part of our girls a great honor for Chemawa and its high school students, to win out against the best talent in Salem at the try-out.

OUR CHAPEL SERVICE

During chapel exercises last Sunday evening the orchestra played a selection from the opera of "Martha" by Flotow, Maude Craig sang "The Elf-Man" by Wells, Louis Colby recited "Spartacus to the Gladiators," Cruz McDaniels gave as a baritone solo "Alice Where Art Thou" by Ascher, the choir sang "I'm Nearer My Home" by Lewis, and Supt. Hall gave a very fine talk. In every talk given by Supt. Hall there is "that something" which holds the attention of all. It is that which combines all the elements of truth—philosophy, logic, the lessons taught mankind by experiences of countless ages, and the manner in which each talk is given. These talks are fine lessons for all of us.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Next Sunday afternoon Rev. H. E. Pemberton of the South Salem Friends Church will be the speaker at the regular monthly preaching service in the auditorium.

At a recent meeting of the I.T.C. Mr. Bent gave a most interesting and instructive talk on "Old Indian Games." Mr. Bent had spent a great deal of time and effort in making the equipment for some of these games to illustrate his talk and the interest was keen throughout the meeting. Many of these games are almost obsolete, and Mr. Bent hopes to see the Indian boys revive some of these skillful and picturesque games in place of the more modern games of white boys.

The topic of the Y. W. C. A. meeting last Sunday was, "Our Responsibility to our Association," and many interesting suggestions for improving the Association and its meetings were given. The Y.W.C.A. is the recipient of a splendid gift of twelve Mission Study text-books from the Y. W. C. A. of Albany College. The text is "Ancient Peoples at New Tasks," a very interesting presentation of Industrial Missions in Japan, China, India and Africa. The study of this book will be taken up at once by both the Y.M. and Y.W.C.A.s.
