Friday is Ground Hog day and the swine is supposed to venture out. Will he see his shadow?

Mrs. De La Relle, of Portland, entered on duty last Friday as one of the Winona Hall matrons.

Company C is now strutting about in new winter-green marine uniforms. The boys are justified in their pride for they really make a splendid appearance.

Orders for the materials with which to construct the $50,000 boys, dormitory have been placed. Mr. Bradley, Superintendent of Construction, is quite busy arranging for the work to go ahead.

Companies A, B and C girls attended chapel Sunday evening wearing their new one-piece serge uniforms, simply but artistically trimmed. They presented a very natty and pleasing appearance.

Plans for the $35,000 dormitory for 100 or more smaller girls are about completed and ready to be forwarded to Washington for approval. Mr. Roy Bradley, under instructions from the Department has the matter in hand.

If one desires to view beautiful spring hats, happen into the domestic art department, millinery section, and look over the work of the senior girls which has been done under instruction of Mrs. Canfield, domestic art teacher.

Superintendent and Mrs. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Downie, Mr. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Mason, Miss Eakin, Carrie Anderson, Miss Judd, accompanied the girls' basketball squad to Woodburn Saturday night. The journey was made by autos through a very hard snow storm.

Mr. Charles Demmert, from Bayview, Alaska, spent several days at Chemawa visiting his two daughters, Marian and Winifred. He was accompanied by his brother, James Demmert, of the same place. Mrs. Demmert, mother of the girls, is a Chemawa ex-student. The ladylike demeanor and high standing of the Demmert sisters at Chemawa reflects much credit upon their parents.

Old dog "Jack" has been obsessed for some time that it was up to him to intercept all trains passing by our school. A few days ago he tried to do business with a passenger train as it roared by at a 40-mile-an-hour pace. Well, Jack connected and disconnected, and shortly thereafter he was the recipient of "first aid" at the hands of our Boy Scouts. Jack is better, but the Scouts are still caring for him.

In addition to a good song service during Chapel exercises last Sunday evening the orchestra played an "Indian Intermezzo" by Brown, Lucy Verney sang "In the Secret of His Presence" by Lowry, George Phinney recited "Salust to the Roman Senators," a chorus of girls sang by request "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," the choir sang "We Bless Thee for Thy Peace" by Briggs, and Supt. Hall closed the exercises with a splendid talk to the students, in which he recited many truths that they should remember. In fact, without an intimate acquaintance with the facts that he placed before them our young people cannot hope to get far in life. It was a worth-while talk.

Mrs. Hall is in receipt of a letter from Fred Cardin thanking the kind friends at Chemawa for the beautiful Christmas remembrances sent himself, Willie Reddie and other members of the company. They were delighted with the exquisite work done by the girls in the art needlework department and said that they would show these gifts with much pride and pleasure as the handiwork of Chemawa girls. They were especially pleased that the handkerchiefs were made for them personally. Since giving their memorable concert at Chemawa last December they have given concerts in Texas and the middle states. Fred says that he and Willie are signed up as members of the Department of Music of the University of Nebraska, at Lincoln, Nebr. They enter upon their work at this institution on the first of next September. This is certainly a matter of pride to all of us, as it proves the quality and class of Chemawa products. We cannot commend these young artists too highly.

GIRLS LOSE TO WOODBURN

On last Saturday evening our girls' basketball team, accompanied by Superintendent and Mrs. Hall and several other backers and basketball enthusiasts, braved the snowstorm and drove to Woodburn where our girls met and were defeated by the high school girls 24 to 18.

Whether our girls were cold or not from the drive we do not know, but at any rate it took them till the second half to locate the basket, though their passing was superior to that of Woodburn's.

Klamp, a left-handed forward for Woodburn, was a slicker when it came to shooting baskets and very seldom missed. She made all of Woodburn's 24 points, though it was by no means a one-man team, for the other five were fast and good passers.

In the second half our team got into the game with the whistle and did not stand around and wait for Woodburn to lead, and all but overcame the big lead that the high school girls rolled up in the first half.

Girls, remember, that games are won in the first half as well as in the second and to win you must play hard all through the game.

Though the team did not win it was a most enjoyable trip and ended up most happily, for on their return home Mr. and Mrs. Hall took the party unto their home and served a most delicious lunch.
