LITERARY SOCIETIES

Nonpareil

Friday, March 9, 1923, the Nonpareils elected the following officers for the second semester: President, Addie Merrill; vice-president, Anna Lee Thomas; secretary, Oka Paulina; treasurer, Cecelia Smith; corresponding-secretary, Erma LaClair; cheer-leader, Nellie Rinehart; sergeant-at-arms, Maud Potts; reporter, Uintah Kirk; critic, Luella Williams.

Excelsior

The Excelsior Literary Society held their meeting last Friday evening in the Laboratory.

The house was called to order and the secretary called the roll; each member answered with a quotation. The house was then open for old and new business after which a short but interesting voluntary program was given by the members. Before adjournment, Mr. Ross, our visitor for the evening, gave us an encouraging and helpful talk. We ended with the usual songs and yells.

Winona

The Winonas held their meeting in room 9 on March 3, 1923.

Roll was called, then followed the installation of the new officers, who are as follows: President, Carrie Anderson; vice-president, Madeline Wilder; secretary-treasurer, Rose Gray; sergeants, Anna LaRance and Harriet Hill; cheer leader, Charlotte Bremner.

A short voluntary Indian program was rendered and went off with the usual Winona spirit and "pep."

Mr. and Mrs. Hall and Miss Roberts were our visitors. We had the satisfaction of listening to little helpful talks.

After a short hurried business program we adjourned.

Reliance

The meeting of the Reliance Literary Society took place on Friday evening, March 9, in Room 8. The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted. We then proceeded with our old and new business. A few discussions were brought up and dispensed with. Adjournment followed for the election of officers, the result being: President, Allan Shepard; vice-president, Harry Frost; secretary, Robert Johnson; treasurer, Edwin Liljegren; cheer-leader, Charles Buchert, with Jacob Atkins as his assistant. After this little bit of excitement Allan Shepard and Frank James favored us with a duet. The officers took their offices and after shaking the whole campus by a few yells we adjourned with everyone happy. Mrs. Downie was our official visitor. Ellis White and Frank Peratovich, with several ex-students and old Reliance members, were also present.

Varsity Mat Men Defeat Oregon Frosh

Last Friday evening our varsity grapplers took the University of Oregon mat men into camp by winning four out of six matches. The Frosh were successful only in winning two of the matches and those came by the decision route.

John Hanson, Alex Petellin, Earl Donnelly and Herschel Crim all proved masters of their opponents right off the reel and had little difficulty in pinning their opponents' shoulders to the carpet. By keeping their men on the defense from the start and clamping never-failing holds on them they made short work of their job, pinning their men to the mat in from two to five minute periods.

Though Titus Samuels and Guy Scott were not as successful as their teammates, they proved too much for their opponents to handle. Each of the two wrestled to a draw in the first bout and won the second by a fall. Only the referee's decision gave the third bout to the Frosh for having a slight edge on aggressiveness.

The condition of our bone-crushers showed that they have worked-out regularly and have trained faithfully. The pep and determination with which they entered the match always wins. Keep it up. Tentative arrangements are being made with the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club of Portland and the O. A. C. Rooks for matches.

ATHLETIC NOTES

The girls enjoyed more than a successful season, having lost but two games; the second one to the state champions by the slight margin of one point. The following, who have played in a sufficient amount of games, will also be awarded their letter on "Jolly-up" day: Madeline Wilder, Rose Downie, Grace Morrigau, Maude Potts, Maude Haey, Cora Black, Daisy Ballard and Cecilia Smith.

After closing a most successful season our varsity basketball men handed in their suits late last week to rest until another year. On "Jolly-up" day during commencement week the following will be awarded their honors for the splendid record made this season: Dandro George, captain and forward; Charles Buchert and Alpheus Norwest, forwards; Reginald DePoe, center; Jack Abraham, George Phinney and Jake Atkins, guards.
