Varsity Defeats Pacific College

Our varsity defeated Pacific College last Friday afternoon at Newberg by the score of 19 to 6. There was simply nothing else for Pacific to do but be defeated, for Chemawa went into the game to win and that spirit prevailed from the first whistle till the last. There is never much chance of stopping a team with that determination and fight. The usual waiting and stalling around which was so much in evidence in previous games was left out entirely in this contest. On the first kick-off, which was a beautiful one made by Reginald DePoe that sailed up high and almost over the bar, eleven red-jersied red-skins raced down under the ball ready to down the man in his tracks. That was a real start and from then on every play found all of Chemawa's eleven men in it.

The line which was composed of Sedan Thomas and Robert Fielder, center; Willie Skinna and Moses George, guards; Paul Keta and Sam Nerguson, tackles; Charles George and Peter Rasmusson, ends; opened up holes in the line as big as freight cars, which enabled Reginald DePoe, Jake Atkins, James Thomas, Raymond Sanderson, John Kowasuk and Tom Anayah, alternating in the backfield, to dive and dash through the Pacific lines for long and consistent gains. These same backfield men skirted out and around the Pacific ends in no ordinary fashion and interfered nicely for the runner. Reginald DePoe was the most consistent ground gainer for Chemawa and was out in the lime-light a little more than the rest on account of his punting. All of his kicks went off nicely, with plenty of height and distance. He easily out-kicked his opponent. With the ends functioning properly Pacific would not have been able to return any of his punts one inch.

Domestic Science Notes

Marian Morgan, Eva Martin, and Martha Edelman are making the high school lunches this week.

The Prevocational Home Training classes are in charge of Florence Shurovaloff this week. Florence says it is great fun to teach.

Judging from the appearance of the Senior girls we must have some fine cooks this week. The cooks are Flora Dexter, Eva Martin, and Charlotte Bremner.

Two of the Senior girls, Harriet Hill and Mabel Bremner, are cooking for the football team this week. This gives the girls practice in cooking for a large number. So far we have heard no complaint from the boys.

A dinner was prepared for twenty-seven Corvallis High school boys last Saturday. Although the girls had only planned for eighteen boys they managed to find food for the others. Domestic Science girls who cooked the meal were: Flora Harper, Evelyn Green, Doris McCarty, Hilda Jackson, and Edith Day from the seventh grade; Grace Johnson, Edna Audette, Mabel Bremner and Agnes Ponchene from the Senior Class. Stella Bolster and Rose Baker were orderlies who did their share of the work also.

Domestic Art Notes

We are succeeding nicely in our work as "practice makes perfect."

We thank the carpenter boys for additional tables and chairs. They have made it very convenient for us.

The most important of all is the Christmas gifts and the little dainties which are just being started and will be on sale a few weeks before Christmas. We are expecting a large crowd up here, so if you want our very best, we advise you to come early—we assure you that we have everything here to please you.

Stop! Look! and read! It's just us again. The happy Juniors, rendering our so-called news which we know every one on the campus enjoys. We suppose you are all curious to know what we Juniors are doing up in our Domestic Art Department. First of all we have completed our every-day dresses. The little ties, and set-in pockets add very much to the appearance of them. We are very anxious to wear them, but will have to wait, owing to the fact that some have been delayed on account of being on duty in other departments.

Senior Notes

We are all glad to have the Chemawa American back again.

New class members are Henry Kitka, John Milne and Lloyd Jenson.

Our class now numbers forty-four. We hope to have a couple more.

The senior girls are very fortunate to have Mr. Fisher as their botany teacher. We find botany very interesting.

The seniors are very glad to see that some of our boys are taking part in the football games. Watch the next game and see how many there are.

The seniors had a class meeting some time ago and elected the following officers: Reginald DePoe, president; Anna Peratrovitch, vice-president; Henry Bowker, secretary; Raymond Sanderson, treasurer; Reno Booth, cheer leader and Charles Moon, sergeant-at-arms.
