LITERARY SOCIETIES

Winona

The Winona girls held their annual meeting in Room 7 at the usual hour last Friday evening. A very interesting program was rendered by the Carnation Division. Every number alluded to the Indian. An Indian love song was sung by Tillie Walking Bear. She is a Crow Indian. Maybelle Bremner—"Sets-Down-too-Often"—and Miss Grace Johnson—"Snake-Eyed Suicide"—gave us an interesting prophecy.

Election of officers produced these wonderful results: President, Harriett Hill; vice-president, Anna Peratrovich; secretary and treasurer, Charlotte Bremner; sergeants-at-arms, Martha Orsen and Grace Johnson; cheer leader, Maybelle Bremner; reporter, Evelyn Whitebear.

Reliance

The Reliance Literary Society held their annual open session last Friday evening at the Auditorium. There being no play, it was all a literary program, which was as follows: Opening address, Pres. William McMaster; Opening song, Society; Recitation, Lawrence Crofoot; Reliance Star, Royal Holst; Hawaiian selection, Keta, Wilson, Peratrovich and Haldane; Recitation, Lee Wilson; Vocal solo, Reno Booth; Prophecy, Titus Samuels; Hawaiian Music, Keta, Wilson, Peratrovich and Haldane; Recitation, Reno Booth; Mysterious Performances, Jake Atkins; Two-in-One Selection, Fred Nystrom; Recitation, Edward Larson; Jazzy Jigging, Tom Spotteddog and Louis Isadore; Debate, "Resolved, That Football should be abolished in high schools and colleges." Affirmative, Royal Holst and Frank Thomas; Negative, Charles Moon and Percy Woodcock; Hawaiian songs, Wilson, Peratrovich, Keta and Haldane; Song, Reliance Quintette, Moses, Booth, Johnson, Keta and Haldane; Hawaiian Music, Reliance Hawaiian Quartette; Indian Pose, Gus Brunoe; Three cheers, Reliance Quintette. The last on the program was the world ending, but Saint Peter said he couldn't collect the tickets fast enough if they were coming all at once so old Jupe is "gona" send them in one at a time—so be ready for your turn.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE NOTES

Well! Well! Who are we? The Sophomores. We are working in the domestic science department now. If enthusiasm counts for anything we ought to gain a great deal on this detail.

Yesterday we served our first meal—a luncheon. It was well prepared, and needless to say, it was enjoyed by everyone.

In previous lessons we baked bread and made some cakes. Martha Kinnineck and Josephine Racine took the prize for bread making. The best cakes were made by Frances Morrow and Aleatha Olney. The other division of the sixth grade are here now. They are studying what they should eat for breakfast.

The Junior girls, on their last work day, opened the new domestic science cottage. All of the ladies of Chemawa were invited to a tea. This was served by Mrs. Brickell's girls and prepared by Miss Strout's class. The cottage is an example of what can be accomplished with small expense. The artistic beauty of the cottage was appreciated by all of the callers. All of the planning and arranging was done by Mrs. Brickell and her girls.

Goodbye until next week,
THE HAPPY SOPHOMORES.

JUNIOR NOTES

Our new classmate's name is Dorothy M. Parker. She is full of pep.

We all feel like bright silver dollars after our visit to the legislature.

Another new Junior has been added to our collection, which makes it seventy-nine.

We were proud that a number of our Junior boys took part in the Reliance open session. That speaks well for us.

Agatha Crouch received 98 percent in ancient history last month. We are beginning to wonder what she will get this month.

We are beginning to realize that our kind teacher, Mr. Fisher, is back. We were all tickled when we saw him in his old classroom.

Talk about new class songs, we have three new ones. The favorite tunes are, "Mah Jongg," "Last night on the back porch," "I love you."

Recently this part of Oregon has had its quota of rain—and then some! The government report last Monday morning showed that we had an excess of two and one-half inches of rain to our credit since September 1st. This is quite a bit of extra moisture, especially in a country that is normally quite moist in the winter anyway. The majority of us can swim in case of necessity, so we are not worrying.
