Mr. Bent was in Portland on school business for a few hours last Thursday.

Miss Marie Roddy, stenographer in our administrative office, is enjoying her "annual leave," or vacation.

Ernest Brunoe, a graduate of Chemawa, has arrived from his home in Warmspring, Oregon, to be employed as machinist at Chemawa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Mason have just purchased a new car, a Durant sedan. It is a fine looking car and has up-to-date equipment in every particular.

The students below the ninth class gathered in the big gym last Saturday evening for a good time, and they had it. The orchestra was in attendance and helped to make things merry for all.

Your Afterself

A Message to Young Men

By DAVID STARR JORDON

Chancellor Emeritus, Stanford University

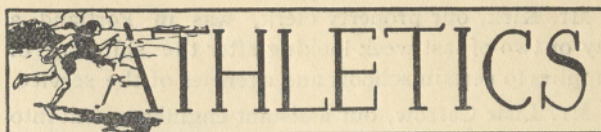

OUR first duty in life is to your afterself. So live that your afterself—the man you ought to be—may in his time be possible and actual. Far away in the years he is awaiting his turn. His body, his brain, his soul are in your boyish hands. He cannot help himself. What will you leave for him?

Will it be a brain unspoiled by lust or dissipation; a mind trained to think and act; a nervous system as true as a dial in its response to the truth around you? Will you, boy, let him come as a man among men in his time? Or will you throw away his inheritance before he has had the chance to touch it? Will you turn over to him a brain distorted, a mind diseased; a will untrained to action; a spinal cord grown through and through with the devil-grass we call wild oats?

Will you let him come, taking your place, gaining through your experience, happy in your friendship, hallowed through your joys, building on them his own? Or will you fling it all away, decreeing and wanton-like, that the man you might have been shall never be?

This is your problem in life—the problem vastly more important to yourself than any or all others. How will you meet it, as a man or as a fool? It is your problem today and every day, and the hour of your decision is the crisis of your destiny.

CHEMAWA LOSES TO OREGON FROSH

The 42 to 0 score the Oregon Frosh rolled up against our team at Eugene last Friday tells something of a onesided game but nothing of the thirty to thirty-five pound advantage in weight per man the frosh had on us, nor does it tell of the gamely fought, uphill battle our boys put up against such odds. Though facing certain defeat the team fought like demons and actually grew stronger as the game progressed.

In the first half the freshman ran almost rough shod over our eleven to score 28 points. But the second half saw almost a complete reversal of play. In the two final periods our team gained more yardage from scrimmage and made more first downs than did their husky opponents.

The following twenty-four men made the trip to Eugene and all but two got into some part of the game: Joe Alexander, Albert Miller, Ben Bear, ends; James McKay, George Thompson, William Jones, Harry Archambeau, tackles; Isaac Curly, Benny Charley, George Little Light, Joe Ball, guards; Alonzo Hoover, Robert Perkins, center; Julian Smith, quarter-back; Roy Meachem, Alex Gouley, fullbacks; Wallace Hosie, Dowd Franklin, Warren Wilder, George McGriff, Clarence Weaver, Howard Churchill, and John Trotter, halfbacks.

The test of our metal is now at hand. With a shortage of replacements and the important games on our schedule just around the corner it is now simmered down to a matter of "root hog or die." Three first team regulars were placed on the ineligible list last week and will be denied further competition for the rest of the season. While that seemingly puts a crimp in things generally it would be a pretty safe bet that some one else will rise to the occasion and make things go.

The lowly freshmen knocked the props from under the juniors last week in a regular league battle 7 to 6. A drop kick from the trusty toe of Mr. Howard Churchill was the little stunt that turned the trick. In the third period the juniors started with a mad rush and Edgar Simmons plowed through the line for the juniors' lone score. The try for point failed. Then started a whirl of passes, end runs and line plunges by the freshmen that enabled them to cross the juniors' goal in spite of their determined defense.

No league game this week because of other important events on the program. If things work out according to Hoyle our first team will meet West Lynn here Friday.
