

CHEMAWA AMERICAN

Printed at Chemawa, Oregon, and Devoted to the Interests of Indian Education

Vol. XXX 1930

Wednesday, Jan. 8, 1930

No. 17

ARROWS from the LONG BOW

(FROM THE QUIVER OF DAVID HARUM).

It's a good sight easier to git a fishhook in, 'n 'tis to git it out.

If I've done anything I'm sorry for (in a hoss trade), I'm willin' to be forgi'n.

I reckon it's a sight easier to have faith on meat an' potatoes 'n it is on corn meal mush.

I guess the's about as much human nature in some folks as the' is in others, if not more so.

A reasonable amount o' fleas is good fer a dog—keeps him from broodin' over bein' a dog.

Hosses don't know but dreadful little, really. Talk about hoss sense—wa'll, they ain't no such thing.

I've been wuss stuck two or three times by church members in good standin' than anybody I ever dealt with.

A thing 's hard, I reckon, because it's harder'n some-thin' else, or you think so. Most things go by comparin'.

My experience is that most men's hearts is located ruther closter to their britches pockets than they are to their breast pockets.

A hoss-trade ain't like anythin' else. A feller may be straighter'n a string in everythin' else, an' never tell the truth—that is the whole truth—about a hoss.

"Bus'nis is bus'nis" ain't part of the golden rule, I allow, but the way it genally runs, fur's I've found out, is, "Do unto the other fellow the way he'd like to do unto you, an' do it first."

OUR CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

Many Special Events Occupy Our Minds—A Joyous Time for Young and Old—Much Time Allowed for Festivities.

Writing up the events connected with our Christmas holidays each year is always a pleasurable experience, but it has one drawback: It is difficult to tell just where to begin, just the exact date on which our yuletide observances started. With many of our people preparations for Christmas began quite a while back, but we think it fitting to begin with the Sunday before, as Miss Eakin and the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. organizations gave pleasing programs on that day. In the evening the choir gave the traditional "Christmas Pageant" in the auditorium, and it was in every way most pleasing. In this work Mrs. Turney had the assistance of Miss Gunn, and Mr. Kunkel played a lovely violin solo as an atmosphere feature.

On Monday evening all were treated to a presentation of the cantata for youngsters, "A Joke on Santa Claus." This work was under the direction of Miss Judd and it was in every particular most interesting. Since presentation much praise has been heard of this pleasing feature of our holidays schedule.

On Christmas Eve the various dormitories about the grounds were the scenes of "tree" parties. Pleasing programs were given just previous to "stripping" the trees of their gifts. Many employes attended these programs and enjoyed them as much as did the students.

About thirty of the Catholic high school students attended Midnight Mass in Salem Christmas Eve. A Southern Pacific bus was chartered to take the students to Salem, and return them to Chemawa after the service. The arrangements were made by Miss Roddy and the party started from her home. All report having had an enjoyable time.

Early carol singing by members of the choir awakened many people about the campus and in this way was Christmas Day ushered in. At 5:00 in the morning Father Gall said mass and gave Holy Communion to his charges of the Catholic faith. At the conclusion of the regular service he gave a brief, but interesting, discourse on the inscrutable wisdom of the Creator.

At noon all assembled at the students' large dining hall and enjoyed a splendid dinner. We must all give Mr. Bond and those who assisted him the utmost credit for the wonderful dinner provided the students. The decorations, too, were lovely. As usual, the orchestra played during the meal and many employes were in attendance to help if needed.

In the evening all repaired to the auditorium for movies. A real treat awaited all, for "Simba" was the attraction.

(Continued on page 2)