OUR SUMMER'S WORK

Supt. Lipps has had an immense force of men at work at the school during the past summer. The main academic building has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired. It is now in splendid condition.

McBride Hall came in for a thorough renovation and a large force of men were busy there for many weeks. It appears now to be as good as new.

An immense amount of labor has been expended on the hot water system here. It is desired to have it satisfactory in every particular—and it is necessary that it should be so. This project is nearing completion.

The residential district of West Chemawa was the scene of activity for Mr. Sanders and a large force of painters. As a result the exterior of nearly every house on this section of the campus has had its coat of paint. It looks mighty nice down that way now.

One of the greatest undertakings was the "make-ready" for the new gymnasium which is to be. Our old gym had to be put in condition for conversion into a commissary—this was the beginning of things. Then it was necessary to transfer all of our supplies from the old commissary to the new. All of this required time, and lots of it. The next thing was to move the old commissary building south, across the athletic field to a position south of the machine shop. This building will now be utilized as a sort of farm supply house. It was necessary to move this building, as it stood where it was desired to locate our new gym.

Following this house-moving project came the moving of what is left of the original Brewer Hall building. This historic old edifice is now located a short distance west of the carpenter shop and it will be used as an apartment house.

It is hoped that real work can be started on our new gym soon, as the lack of a gymnasium is a serious handicap in many ways to a school like ours. But as Supt. Lipps pointed out during chapel last Sunday evening, when finally completed the new gym will be so fine that all can well await, patiently, the opening of its portals.

A task of considerable magnitude which was completed was the establishment of a new oil reserve tank near the power plant. It is of immense capacity and is of concrete. The digging of the great pit for the tank was accomplished by student labor. It is finished with concrete and is a much-needed adjunct to the satisfactory functioning of our power plant.

The above paragraphs will, we trust, give our readers something of an idea of the immense amount of work that Supt. Lipps has had on his hands during the past summer for the betterment of Chemawa—our Chemawa!

PROSPECTS FOR 1930

Another footfall season has come to us and it was happily received by a handful of candidates who scrambled into their uniforms last Wednesday evening for the first work-out just as the sun was setting behind the hills. Graduation and other things have cut into the ranks of those who made up last year's squad and as a result many places will have to be filled. However, each day new candidates who are willing to work and win one of those positions arrive and report for practice. Veterans are valuable, especially when they are of the right calibre. Yet experience is not the essential characteristic. Enthusiasm, determination and an undying willingness to work are more important.

A year ago we began with a new and inexperienced team, yet they won the Willamette Valley title because they kept constantly at it and sacrificed for the sake of the team. A few floundered around and dropped by the wayside before the season came to a close, but the ones who brought the crown to our door were the thoroughbreds who stayed to the end. They paid a good price, but they won. It will always be so. Success in any thing is gained only after great labor. Football is no exception.

"The winner never quits and the quitter never wins," is only one of the many truths footballists all over the land must keep in mind if they expect to win. If they allow fierce opposition to drive them from their course they are sure to be licked. They won't win a place as individuals nor a victory as a team. Football demands the best there is in every boy who plays the game. First of all it requires the highest type of sportsmanship. That in itself covers a wide area. He must be unselfish, dependable, courageous and able to think. However, the best thing that can be said about the sport is that it will develope these traits.

Last year our team was the best there was in a fair-sized circle—this year we expect to be the best in a bigger one. The time and opportunity is with us. Just how well we succeed and how near we come to winning our goal depends largely on how hard we are willing to work.
