Miss Nye accompanied Miss Ellis to Corvallis last Friday on what we were informed was purely a business trip.

Supervisor Moore and Mr. Larsen left here early last week on a two-day trip to the Siletz and Grand Ronde agencies.

The month of February was not a dull period for the shoe makers, as they repaired 627 pairs of shoes in that time—a short month, too!

Leota LeSieur arrived a few days ago from Ft. Hall, Idaho, and has enrolled for post graduate work at Chemawa. She is a graduate of Sherman Institute.

Flora Harper, member of our last Graduating Class, writes from Tanana, Alaska, that she is enjoying her work as cook at the Government Orphanage at that place.

Mrs. Carrie L. Wilcox, Advisor's Assistant, arrived at Chemawa last Sunday, having been transferred from the Sante Fe school. She will be quartered in Mitchell Hall.

Last Saturday afternoon Miss Ellis called a meeting of those of our school who are in any way in touch with our home economics department. It was in the nature of a conference.

Now is the time for those who desire a Senior Annual to take advantage of the "advance of publication" offer of $1.00. After they are off the press they will cost more—worth $5.00.

Friends of Cecile Pepion will be sorry to know that she is confined in the Hospital at Browning, Montana, with tuberculosis. We all sincerely hope for Cecile an early and complete recovery.

The new band uniforms certainly add to the appearance of our band and we imagine they even play better in their new attire. The uniforms are a great credit to Mr. James and his tailors.

At a meeting of the Winona society last Saturday an election of officers was held which resulted as follows: President, Christine Muller; vice-president, Theresa Newman; secretary and treasurer, Cecelia Steve; song leader, Lucile Gibbs; critic, Agnes Smith; sergeants-at-arms, Grace Marshall and Katherine Gartelman; reporter, Veda La Jeunesse.

Mrs. Grace E. Hall, well-known author and poet, was a visitor at the school last Sunday, the guest of friends.

Problems in a girl's life that may lead to happiness or disaster were frankly discussed in the Y. W. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon. The devotional service was appropriate to the Lenten season and was conducted by a group of the girls.

Mrs. Middleton gave a delightful party last Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Dorothy Ellis, supervisor of home economics. There were twenty lady employes in attendance and it was a most delightful social event in every particular.

Jack Galbreath and James Walters have just completed the task of putting in new steps on the north side of the domestic science building, for the convenience of those who are connected with the domestic science and domestic art departments.

Mr. H. N. Stoudenmeier, well-known bandmaster, formerly director of our band, attended the concert of our organization last Saturday evening on a special invitation from Bandmaster Vosburgh. He had many nice things to say of our organization.

Rev. George N. Taylor, financial secretary for Albany College, was the speaker on Sunday morning at the Protestant church. He illustrated his sermon in a unique way with blackboard sketches, and the service proved most interesting to all who attended.

The Y. M. C. A. vocational discussion on Sunday evening was on the building trades. Interesting talks were given by Roland Booth, Louis Pitt, Harold Berys, Frank Dumont and Warren Wilder. The Y. M. C. A. quartet offered a pleasing selection at the close of the discussion.

Mrs. Louise F. Brickell left last Saturday for the Yakima country in Washington, where she will remain for about three weeks. Her visit there will be devoted to work of an "outing" service nature, gathering data for a sort of "follow up" on what our Indian people are doing.

Last Monday the girls at the Domestic Science department entertained at luncheon Miss May Workinger, Appointment Secretary Oregon State College, and Miss Evelyn Bently, Extension Worker, Arizona State University. Miss Bently was for several years an employee in the Indian Service and is now working for her Master's Degree at the Oregon State College. In her extension work at the Arizona University she covers a large area of the Papago Indian Reservation and in co-operation with Indian Service Workers she has been conducting a home improvement program among the Indians. Chemawa appreciates fully the interest of these two capable educators and hopes that they will visit us again.
