DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

On his return last Saturday morning from the conference of the Indian Service officials held in Spokane, Wash., last week, Supt. Ryan was accompanied by the following prominent gentlemen: Dr. W. Carson Ryan Jr., director of Indian education, Indian Office, Washington, D. C.; J. C. McCaskill of the Institute of Government Research, Washington, D. C.; Robert T. Lansdale, an assistant to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C.; Samuel H. Thomson, supervisor of secondary education, Washington, D. C.; E. H. Hammond, district superintendent, Phoenix, Arizona; Paul W. Gordon, of the Institute of Government Research, Washington, D. C.; James Arentson, supervisor of trade and industrial training; O. H. Lipps, superintendent of the U. S. Indian Agency, Sacramento, Calif.

The distinguished gentlemen were most welcome and were shown every courtesy within our power during their brief visit here. A noonday luncheon was served at the Wigwam for those who were on the grounds and in the evening Supt. and Mrs. Ryan entertained them at their home for dinner, after which the party, with the exception of Supervisor Arentson, entrained for the south. Their visit seemed all too brief, but short as it was, a memorable time for all of us—a pleasure to entertain such an able and affable group of men.

MR. LARSEN BADLY INJURED

Last Saturday, while motoring to Siletz Agency in company with Dr. W. Carson Ryan, Mr. Samuel Thompson, Mr. Paul Gordon and Supt. Jas. T. Ryan, Mr. C. E. Larsen, our clerk and disbursing agent, was badly hurt when the car turned over near Burnt Wood, in Lincoln county. Mr. Larsen was driving at the time and no one can tell the cause of the mishap. Aside from a few scratches and some jolting all escaped injury excepting Mr. Larsen, whose left arm was badly fractured and crushed. He was rushed to the Corvallis hospital, accompanied by Supt. Ryan.

For a time it was feared that Mr. Larsen would lose his arm, but according to latest telephone reports to Supt. Ryan the arm has been set and the outlook is more hopeful. A host of loyal friends at Chemawa and elsewhere are very sad over this near tragedy, of which Mr. Larsen is the victim. Many of our people motored to the hospital in Corvallis last Sunday, but were not permitted to see Mr. Larsen.

LOCAL

Mr. Sanders is now traveling about the country in a mighty fine car—it is a Graham-Paige.

Old-time friends of Supt. Lipps, employes and students, were rejoiced to welcome him on his brief visit here last Saturday as he was returning to Sacramento after having been in attendance at the conference of Indian Service officials held in Spokane, Wash., recently, and which was attended by Supt. Ryan of Chemawa.

One evening last week Misses Josephine Estep and Henrietta Blakeslee appeared on a program given at Woodman Hall, near Chemawa. Miss Estep is our assistant music teacher and a fine pianist. On the occasion in question our Chemawa young ladies gave violin and piano numbers and were given a most pleasing reception.
