McNARY HALL NOTES

The boys in McNary Hall are doing their best to keep up the reputation of the building for being the best kept on the campus.

We have a new matron and all the boys like her very much. She does all that is possible for us, so we believe this will be a pleasant year for both the boys and Mrs. Cornick.

The 1,000 point system is being used at McNary Hall to very good advantage. If the students of any building think they have the most points left at the end of each period let them compare them with ours.

BOYS' MUSIC CLUB

The Boys' Music Club held their first meeting Thursday night, Oct. 22. The following officers were elected: Donald Brown, president; Robert Thomas, vice-president and secretary. The original roster has 17 names on it. At present the club is composed only of those in the Boys' Orchestra and string quartet. However, others will be voted in later on. Mr. VosBurgh is sponsoring the organization.

CARPENTER SHOP NOTES

This week marked the beginning of an attempt to roof the garage the carpenter boys are building. We are playing checkers with the weather man, stealing every move we get a chance at. With a few more breaks the shingles will all be laid. Besides this several major projects are moving right along in the shop. Real live interest is shown by every member of the class.

One of the bench dogs, that was made for our shop by the machinshop boys, nearly bit Andrew Peterson while he was keeping the tool room this week.

COMMERCIAL BRIEFS

"Do we like our new teacher? I'll say we do!"

We were glad to find new business English books last week and if we are good maybe we will have new short hand manuals. Let's be good.

Crash!—Bang!—T-e-a-r!! and out comes the paper.

Tiny Smith just made another "mistake for no gain." (We have our off days, too.) Leave it to "What-a-Man" Lemery for typing.

Maybe a passer-by would think that a music shop had been installed in the commercial room, but no, we were only typing to the Notre Dame Victory Song. A few of us still want to syncopate rather than keep straight time.

Fred Rickard and Arthur Francis are the new members; more power to you, Fred and Art!

See you later—Commercial Department.

BAKERY

The bakers are very grateful to the Government for the proofing cupboard and pan racks which they received this last summer.

WAH-KE-TAH

The girls of Campfire troop three, sponsored by Miss Terry, have elected their officers and have had several meetings, but due to the ill health of their reporter they haven't had any report of their meeting published. The following officers were elected: Lillian Halsey, president; Marjorie Martin, vice-president; Junette Bill, secretary and treasurer; Phoebe Archambeau, reporter, and Amelia Olin, song leader.

The girls have selected their Indian names and chosen Wah-ke-tah for their troop name. Last week they worked on the carnival that was given by the Campfire Girls and Girl Scouts on Hallowe'en night. They hope you were all there and that you enjoyed yourselves.

MISCELLANEA

We fifth grade boys have a weather map in our home room.

The sixth grade girls and the fifth grade girls are joining the girls' reserve club and are enjoying it very much. Miss Eakin is our leader.

The fifth grade girls are enjoying making handbags to send to their mothers for Christmas. And we have finished making sewing aprons in the sewing room.

The girl reserves went for a walk Monday evening and picked a few leaves. We are going to press them and make a little collection of different kinds of leaves. We are enjoying ourselves.

The fifth and six grade girls have a girl scout troop. Troop consists of Marion Robenson, Emma Swan, Hannah Duneau, Rose Turner, Beulah Cowen, Martha Spare, Edwina Curl, Virginia Pete, Rosella Evans, Julia Cavyall, Evelyen Baker, Alta Tom, Rose Bellcourt, Esther Johnly, Agnes Hall, Minerva Logsdon. Mrs. Edwards is our leader.

The machine shop boys have been busy the past two weeks on repair work and the manufacture of tools. They have bored out a piston and made a rod and nut for the power plant, threaded an axle and fitted a nut to the same for the Packard trash truck. Made a center punch set and jack for the planer bench.

The farmer boys are starting to plow the ground, getting ready for spring.
