SENIOR NOTES

In the first class game the senior boys defeated the juniors. The girls lost to the junior team.

Several members of our class spent the Christmas holidays at home.

The senior class enjoyed their Christmas tree on the 23rd. The ex-students and graduates now of the commercial class were our guests. Supt. and Mrs. Ryan, Mr. Christy, and our advisor, Miss White, were present. After the distribution of gifts dancing was enjoyed by all.

Jesse Jim, a member of our class, won a cross-country race in Salem. He ran against a large group of contestants from the Salem schools. He is now owner of a beautiful cup which was the first prize.

Rosalia Grounds took Miss Cruise's place as English teacher last Wednesday morning and taught the rest of the class some thrilling verbs. All were very attentive.

Christine Muller filled Miss Terry's position as sewing room teacher while the latter was having her Christmas vacation in Los Angeles.

Josephine Hughes, a senior, was the last one standing at the end of the spelling contest. She is the best speller of the high school section. Ray for Jo!

Cretonne curtains have been made by the senior girls for the beauty parlor and barber shop.

Lillian Halsey has just recovered from a week or so of illness. She was in the hospital during the Christmas tree program. The Senior Class gave her a poinsettia plant for a Christmas present. We are glad to have Lillian back in class again.

MACHINE SHOP NOTES

Vacation time has cut the attendance quite heavily the past week. Demmert, Mahone, Dumont and Stewart are away on vacation, but the rest of the boys have been working industriously. At the present time Glenn Sireech is in the hospital. We all hope for his speedy recovery.

Besides institutional work the boys have completed the following:

Robert Phrenetterne and Andrew Ides have made a couple of picture frame jigs for the carpenter shop. Philip Broncheau has completed the jig for cutting gaskets and Charles Peterson has completed a steel gear for one of the lathes.

The boys are learning to go ahead with their work without as much assistance from their instructor as at the beginning of the school year, which is very gratifying.

CARPENTER SHOP NOTES

The carpenter-cabinet worker boys, spurred by the Christmas spirit, did some commendable work during the past two weeks.

A number of wrecked chairs were completely rebuilt and are again in service. Also several Christmas gifts were designed and completed.

A number of boys are working on furniture designs. Selecting their own project, they use a design of their own to enrich the project. Along this line Fred Grinnell is doing some excellent work.

Benjamin Palmer has just finished a physics laboratory table, which that department is in need of. A second one is well along the construction road.

Next semester furniture design and decoration and elementary carpentry will be stressed,

COMMERCIAL

The Senior Rotators held their regular monthly meeting on Dec. 21st in the commercial room. The following were initiated: Henrietta Blakeslee, Elizabeth Ides, Jesse Crook, "Chuck" DePoe, Tiny Smith, Fred Rickard and Arnold McKay. A talk by Miss Roddy, refreshments, and a social period were enjoyed by the members.

"Chuck" DePoe "subbed" as a commercial teacher while Miss Hoffman motored to Mt. Hood last Wednesday. Nevertheless, we did not permit the absence of our regular teacher to interfere with the thorough review of our commercial subjects.

DRAMATIC CLUB NOTES

The Girls' Dramatic Club is working on a new play. The date of the production has not been set, but it will be interesting to know that Lucille Powakee is taking the lead.

Each girl in the Dramatic Club is writing a skit in hopes of getting one of the prizes that Miss White has offered for the best skits.

Dramatic Club Girls were well represented in the operetta, pageant, and various Christmas activities.
