SENIOR NOTES

Every evening a number of seniors are seen wending their way to the auditorium. The senior play is in the offing. Save your nickels if you want to see Andrew Hatfield and James Scott in action.

The senior nurses are excused from duties on Wednesday to attend the food demonstration put on by Miss Newell at the domestic science. Salads, deserts, and pastry seem to attract the most attention.

The Seniors extend a friendly hand to the junior class, winners of the song and yell contest. Congratulations and best wishes for the future. We did our best to honor Chemawa and although we did not win a place, we accomplished our purpose.

The seniors betook themselves to the woods east of Pigville at four o'clock on Easter morning accompanied by Georgie and "Pat" Bent, who were the honored guests. Games were played and a few musical numbers were rendered by several of the students who proved excellent entertainers. A real "he man's" breakfast was prepared and served by Professor Thompson and Tex Grounds. They flipped hot cakes like "nobody's business," and of course with the usual call, "Come and get it."

We are glad to have Dominic Dog Eagle back in class. He was confined in the hospital for a few days.

Lee Pepion and Terrance Courtney have done their last bone crushing on the mat for Chemawa. Both have had a very successful season.

A number of the senior boys are turning out for track. Lonnie Weeks and Jesse Jim are the most promising ones.

We have some great actors and they are out to do their stuff when the senior play comes off. Lucille Powakee bears watching.

The seniors are all happy to see their classmate, Lillian Halsey, with them again. She had been in the hospital many days.

SEVENTH GRADE

Spring is here and we seventh graders would like very much to study nature. The wild flowers are very interesting at the beginning of spring. We hope our teacher will catch the hint.

The seventh graders had a laugh over being out of tune Friday night. We are proud of the classes that won because we think they earned their prizes.

The seventh graders are very much pleased with our "little" yell leader, Vernon Jackson. Hats off to Vernon!

The seventh grade boys and girls are much pleased with their new pennant. The colors are green and gold and they contrast beautifully. Our motto is "Loyalty" and we hope to live up to it.

The seventh grade girls are getting along fine in history. We are now studying about "Life in the Colonies of the New World," which is now the United States. We are all interested in it.

In our home room, on our last period on Mondays, we have taken up the book of manners which Mr. Christy presented to Miss Lundquist. Nellie Rennulls is preparing to give us a speech on "School Loyalty" next Monday. After we hear the speech we will try to make our school a better one.

We need a new pencil sharpener and we hope to get one soon. We seventh graders will be proud of that.

McNARY HALL NOTES

The group system in McNary Hall is highly successful. There seems to be a lot of competition, being that points are added to the group, which does a good deal. The number of points added depends upon the importance of the work done and the benefit derived from the work.

Groups one and three are wondering what they are going to do with their extra points, while groups two and four are trying hard to keep near the thousand point mark.

The boys of McNary Hall want to thank all the inspectors for the nice things they say about our building. It surely helps us to strive to keep our building on top. It takes work to keep the building up, but it is worth the work and more, too, to have something that others like too. What's more, every one has taken it upon himself to keep McNary on top.

MACHINE SHOP NOTES

The machine shop has been quite fortunate the last few weeks in having received several jobs that provide the boys with work which they know is going to be used.

At the present time William Demmert, Silas Close and Allen Fielder are working on a mandril and set of bearings for an emery wheel connection in the kitchen. Philip Boncheau has almost completed a surface gauge. Andy Ides has recently completed a shaft for the centrifugal pump in the power house. Bennie Iyall, Rudolph Mayse and Silas Close reamed out the bearings and completed a new oversized shaft for the lawn mower. Presley LaBreeche and Glenn Sireech have just completed a set of irons for a truck box that is being made in the carpenter shop. The boys enjoy doing work that is to be used.

CARPENTER SHOP NOTES

The carpenters are building a corner section of a house, full size and complete in every detail, even to a full-size door and window. All mill work as well as carpenter work is being done by the students. They are now able to see each step and its proper sequence when building a house.

Jesse Jim has now completed the Coxwell chair and it is a first-class job.
