MITCHELL HALL

Mitchell Hall boys are so glad to have the new boys—they have given them a warm welcome.

The boys rooms have been painted, the floors sanded and varnished, the halls painted and floors sanded and varnished—and we are proud of Mitchell Hall. It looks keen—let's keep the building clean, boys!

Recently the Mitchell Hall boys hiked to Hazel Green—cooked their supper—slept in the tall grass and had fried eggs, toast and coffee and peaches for breakfast.

They want to know when they can go again.

Mitchell Hall boys are enjoying working for their clothes.

All A-plus rooms will be announced in the next issue of the Chemawa American. Boys get your name in the papers.

WINONA HALL

The girls in Winona have certainly started the year out right by keeping their rooms in excellent condition and by cooperating and keeping the halls, reception room, etc., right up to the top, as we found it when we all returned from our vacation.

As you all know the building had a complete going over during the summer, so our floors shine like glass. We know that all the girls are really interested in keeping it so. We hope to have close competition with all the other halls on the campus this year. We are especially interested in competing with McNary Hall. We Winona Hall girls want to thank all the girls that stayed here during the summer and worked on our building. You did a wonderful job, for our house shows it.

HAWLEY HALL

School! school! school! Hawley hall girls are ready for the school semester and are going to start off with a determination to win out in all activities.

We have our matrons to thank for the hard work they did in the building this summer getting things ready for us.

We have about 35 new girls at Hawley hall this year and we are glad to have them. Welcome to Hawley hall, girls! Our matrons are real mothers.

We are going to start our point system Monday.

Our floors were sanded and varnished this summer and they look very nice. We also have some new chairs for our parlor. We had our lockers moved upstairs. They were varnished over and look fine.

BREWER HALL

Hello, everybody! The voice from Brewer Hall extends you greetings and salutations.

The returned students were surprised and glad to find that their rooms had been worked over by the cleaners while they were on their vacations.

The halls that have been silent and gloomy all summer are now filled with laughter and cheer. The new boys are adjusting themselves to their new environment and are getting along just fine.

Now we must run along to our duties. Everything is hustle and bustle on this side. Picking up where we left off last spring we are headed for the biggest year in Chemawa history. The voice from Brewer Hall signs off. "Abbyssinnia!"

McNARY HALL

We are pleased to welcome so many new students to McNary. We hope you will be happy with us and help to keep McNary at the top of the list.

Most all McNary boys are high school or college students. We have only a few grade boys.

We are looking forward to a winter of pleasure as well as profit. Many are highly pleased with opportunities offered at Chemawa and are anxious to make good. Let's all pull together and see where we are when school closes next June. Let's do to others as we wish to be done by. Each boy remember: "United we stand, divided we fall."

EXTENSION REGIONAL CONFERENCE

On July 6, 7 and 8 Chemawa had the honor and pleasure of acting as host to the Indian Service extension workers of the northwest. Chemawa came to life suddenly as this efficient and enthusiastic group of men and women took possession of the school and scurried about our campus in pursuance of their many duties.

The conference was in charge of A. C. Cooley, director of Extension work in the Indian Service, and was attended by all the extension workers of the northwest as well as the superintendents of the various agencies in this region.

On the evening of July 7 our guests were entertained in the Practice House. Supt. Ryan assembled all of the school talent not already headed homeward and, all things considered, the students and employees who participated presented a very creditable program of instrumental and vocal music, readings, etc. At the conclusion of the program a rousing song fest was enjoyed under the direction of one of the superintendents.

At the close of the conference many of the visitors expressed their appreciation of the hospitality and friendly cooperation of Supt. Ryan and his staff in making the gathering a success.
