

AN OPPORTUNITY

The Oregon Historical Society has selected "Sacajawea," the Indian "bird woman," who accompanied Lewis and Clark in 1804-6, as the subject for the 1934 C. C. Beekman History Prizes and Medals. The prizes are four in number, viz., first, sixty dollars; second, fifty dollars; third, forty dollars; and fourth, thirty dollars; and will be awarded for the best four original essays on the above named subject written and submitted by girls or boys over fifteen years of age and under eighteen years of age, attending any public or private school, academy, seminary, college, university, or any other educational institution within the State of Oregon. Each of the four prize winners will receive a handsome bronze medal.

The conditions governing the competition are as follows:

(1) The essay submitted in competition must not exceed two thousand words in length.

(2) The essay may be in handwriting or in typewritten form, preferably upon paper of commercial letter size, either ruled or unruled, the several sheets being numbered consecutively and written on one side only, with blank space of about one and one-quarter inches at top and left-hand margin.

(3) The essay shall be accompanied by a separate sheet containing the name and post-office address of the writer, the date of his or her birth, and the name of the school attended.

(4) There shall also be delivered with the essay a certificate signed by a teacher or instructor of the educational institution attended, stating that the writer of the essay is a pupil or student attending the same.

(5) In order to be considered in competition the essay must be delivered, by mail or in person, to the Oregon Historical Society, Room C, Public Auditorium, 235 S. W. Market Street, Portland, Oregon, not later than Saturday, March 17, 1934.

(6) All essays submitted in competition will be numbered and submitted, without names of the writers or other identifying marks, to three judges selected by the undersigned committee.

(7) All competitive essays will be judged according to their general merit and excellence; but the judges will also take into consideration, in passing thereon, neatness of manuscript, accurate orthography, correct grammar and composition, and purity and clarity of diction.

The Oregon State Library in Salem has a reading list or bibliography upon the above named subject, which will be sent to any Oregon student on request. Books pertaining to the subject are obtainable in most Oregon public libraries. Oregon has a system of local libraries, supplemented in many cases by county library systems, and in all cases by the Oregon State Library. Students desiring such books should apply first to the local library, which, if not having the books, should secure them from the county and state libraries. If the local library cannot give this service, which is usual, or if there is no local library, the student should write directly to the Oregon State Library in Salem, which makes loans of books free of charge, except postage, to all citizens of Oregon. In writing to the Oregon State Library students should state the information desired, and not merely confine requests to some particular book or books sought, thereby enabling the State Library to substitute other material in case any book requested is not available.

Mr. and Mrs. Lobdell, Mr and Mrs. Kirk, Miss White and Miss Earlougher have retired and are living in Salem. Miss Mountjoy is teaching in a public school in St. Ignatius, Mon. There are others but with so many changes it was impossible to keep up. Wherever they are and whatever they are doing our hearts are with them and we wish them all the luck in the world.

REDMEN BOW TO COLLEGIANS

Last Saturday the Chemawa football team met the Linfield college freshman on the school field. The Indians were able to hold the heavier college eleven during the early part of the game and several times had their opponents in the shadows of their goal but couldn't summon the necessary drive to score. This was the first home game for our pigskin advocates and the second of the season. The squad has improved since their initial fray with Pacific college two weeks ago. The loss of the game may be laid to the fumbling of receivers on punts and to the fact that our boys were greatly outweighed but as far as innate ability was concerned there was no visible difference. The next game is with Woodburn high school at Woodburn next Saturday.
