MUSIC CLUBS IN JOINT SESSION

Last Thursday evening the boys' and girls' music clubs held a joint meeting in the school building. A program that revealed hidden talent galore in both organizations made up the entertainment for the evening. The first half of the program, given by the girls, was as follows: vocal duet, "Indian Dawn," Mary Iyall and Alice Bachman; Evelyn Whitebear sang a song and accompanied herself on the ukelele; Catherine Bailey read the biography of the famous composer Johann Sebastian Bach; Naomi Mesplie and Mrs. Turney played a piano duet, "Comrades Waltz" and Marceline Seltice rendered a piano solo, "Sunshine." The boys then took the floor and gave the following selections; A Hawaiian trio, Collins Anderson, Francis Thomas and Charles Butler; vocal quartet, "Gipsy Fiddles;" two vocal solos by James Rosario and Billy Orr and the final number by the orchestra and the boys, ensemble entitled "That Co-ed Party".

NEWS NOTES

At a sophomore class meeting recently the girls presented a play the setting of which was an old fashioned country school. All the students dressed to fit the part and the audience enjoyed the sketch very much, we are informed.

The following interesting item from Alaska was written by Reno Booth, a former student: "The Reliance Activity Club of Metlakatla, Alaska, recently sponsored a very elaborate Hallowe'en carnival dance. The affair was a social highlight in these parts. The members sang good old Reliance songs which took us back to dear old Chemawa. Alaska's pride, the Chemawans, furnished the music (the best obtainable anywhere in this part of the country) for dancing. We are still upholding Chemawa in every way."

On November 10, the girls taking Cosmetic Therapy had a finger-wave contest in the beauty salon. Two girls from each group were chosen. Catherine Bailey won from her opponent, Elizabeth Polotkin, Evelyn Sandberg and Delphine Swann tied, and Elsie Bisson won from her opponent, Alva Hawley. All the waves were exceptionally good therefore the judges found it very hard to make a decision. However they were very fair in their judging. The house was well filled and the contest enjoyed by all. We are all anxious to have another one soon. After the contest all the contestants and their subjects were invited to refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee served by Mrs. Wilcox and Mrs. Stiff.
