LOCAL

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Johnson just returned from a business trip to Lapwai, Idaho.

Dr. C. H. Waring, Medical Director, District (2), Indian Service paid our campus a short visit.

Miss Emma Celestine, a Chemawa graduate of '32 was a campus visitor November 11.

Misses Alice Cross and Williamette Blakeslee were the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ryan on Armistice day.

Dr. E. A. Pritchard, supervisor of IECW, was a recent visitor on the Chemawa campus. He was enroute to the Hoopa Agency at Eureka, California.

Miss Hallie Bedard, a graduate of the Chemawa course in Beauty Culture, was the guest of her sister, Miss Essie Bedard, on November 10th and 11th.

Two of our boys, Wilson Cook and Edward Franklin, left this past week to work in the IECW at Warm Springs. Edward plans to use his earnings to pay his way through Moler Barber College in Portland.

A recent wedding of interest to Chemawaites is that of Laura Morigeau to Mr. Joseph Matte. Both are Chemawa grads and also were prominent students in our large family. Joe was assistant plumber to Mr. Kunkel for the past three years and he resigned a few weeks ago previous to his marriage. He is at present located at Arlee, Montana. Chemawa friends wish the young couple all the luck in the world.

CHAPEL

In chapel Sunday, Nov. 11, the program was dedicated to the Armistice.

Mary Iyall sang "Roses of Picardy" by Wood, a recitation, "The Unknown Soldier," was given by Edna Bacon. The orchestra played two selections, the first, in memory of World War veterans, "The Unknown Soldier," by William H. Woodin; second, "Two Guiltars" by Harry Hartick.

Supt. Ryan introduced Mr. Monohan of Salem as the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Monohan, who is an ex-service man, told the assembly in an interesting manner of some of his experiences during that crisis of sixteen years ago. His talk dealt mainly with evils of war. He also stated that Armistice day is the most important day of the calendar for every ex-service man. Dr. Steeves, the Chemawa family physician and a World War veteran was also present.

Concluding, the assembly sang war-time choruses.

In class recently, the girls from the civics class pretended to be outside speakers and gave talks on school loyalty, courtesy, sportmanship, etc. Ruth Henry, who pretended to be Miss Bronson, made such a good talk on "cooperation," that she was encouraged by her classmates to repeat the talk in chapel which she consented and did so. It was a fine simple talk, striking every point on what a person has to do if he expects to get along in the world. We would like to have more talks from the students on any topic which will go into making Chemawa a better school.

The orchestra played "Indian Impressions" compiled and arranged by Mr. Melovidoff. The first, "Rain Dance," this is an authentic Indian song recorded by Mr. Homer Grunn from the Zuni tribe; (2) "Deer Dance," recorded by Stanford Skilton, from the Siletz reservation Rogue river Indians; (3) "Pale Moon," by Logan, sung by James Rosario; (4) "By the Waters of the Minnetonka," by Leeurance; (5) "Indian Dawn," sung by a quartet of boys; James Rosario, Francis Thomas, Dan Motanic and James Dupuis. The choir sang "Our Native Land," by Woodcock.
