LITTLE FLOWER SOCIETY

Our club enjoyed a fine evening at the joint meeting held with the boys on the 28th of November.

It was decided at the meeting on December 4th that the Little Flower Girls would send a gift-box to a family who would enjoy it and thereby make their Christmas Merry.

We are taking up character study and at each of our meetings it is discussed from different angles. Mrs. Allen makes it very interesting and impresses on our minds that there's nothing to equal a good character.

CAMPUS TROUBADOURS

The Campus Troubadours motored to Grand Ronde on the evening of Thanksgiving and furnished music for a dance which was sponsored by the Women's Club of that vicinity. A large crowd was in attendance and much comment was received in the way the boys performed. The boys were treated wonderfully and are anticipating another engagement.

A delicious chicken lunch was served at the close of the dance.

GIRLS' MUSIC CLUB

The girls' music club held their regular meeting November 22. Due to the absence of the president, who took part in the Music Program at Salem high school, Margarite Arcasa, vice-president, took charge of the meeting. A very nice and interesting program was enjoyed.

TRADES

HOSPITAL NOTES

Tommy Jones and Annette Murphy have been away on a short visit to their homes. Leatta Metcalfe also has been on a short visit in Portland.

The senior and junior nurses had a written test. We all received passing grades and feel very proud of ourselves.

The patients enjoyed a nice Thanksgiving dinner too.

Mrs. Hankins was invited to a dinner at Redmond, Oregon. Mrs. Hankins says she had a very nice time in the snow. It was even noted by the nurses that she came back in her snow shoes.

The nurses and Mrs. Hankins are having a lot of fun with Fred Rickard who has a cold. Our only hope is that Fred lives through it all, poor fellow has to jerk away when he has his throat swabbed to keep from getting choked.

Wilma Howard one of our junior nurses has been a patient of ours for about four weeks and we hope that she will be well soon so she may perform her duties once again.

PRACTICE HOUSE

Miss Charlotte Jones, one of our students, left Tuesday morning, November 27, for a position in Portland. She will be working for Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Riley. While we are sorry to have Charlotte leave us, nevertheless, we are glad to see her start out on her own and wish her every success and happiness.

It is said that Elizabeth Arquette, one of our former students, is doing nicely and enjoys her work very much. Elizabeth is working in Portland also.

This is the beginning for us and we certainly hope it ends as nicely as it has started. We feel rather honored to be the chosen few to preside at this home-like atmosphere and sure of gathering knowledge of how to be successful house keepers.

Kathrine Gates and members of the practice house girls witnessed the football game between St. Mary's and Oregon, St. Mary's winning by one touchdown.

BEAUTY PARLOR

The beauty parlor girls have organized a basketball team and Cecile Madsen has been chosen to captain the beautifiers. We practice every other morning and by our showing so far expect to afford competition to any "push overs" in the league.

Evelyn Sandberg has passed her State Board tests on beauty salon and we are justly proud of her.

It has been rumored that the "Tarzan yell king," Billy Orr has become quite a nuisance around the shop. It is said that Helene Kirn runs to the window regardless of what she is doing every time she hears that voice. Well, that voice should hypnotize any woman.

SENIOR CARNIVAL A SUCCESS

The annual senior carnival was a huge success from every standpoint. The gym was exquisitely decorated and the balloons dangling overhead gave much air to this colorful affair. The door prizes consisted of delicious cakes and other novelties. Miss Cruise and the seniors deserve much credit for this enjoyable occasion. Mr. Mason and his boys also deserve much credit for the stands and the tricky contraptions erected tempt our little public. Following the carnival a dance was enjoyed by all, the music being furnished by the Salem School for the Blind. The complete organization wasn't present due to the Thanksgiving vacation but nevertheless all that was needed to put the affair across was in its place. By the reports the carnival was a success financially, clearing a little better than a hundred dollars.

MISS HOFFMAN CALLED HOME

Last Friday Miss Hoffman was called home on account of the serious illness of her father. His condition was considered serious enough to make necessary her trip by plane. We have had no news as to his condition but we are in hopes that she will find things as bad as they seemed at first. Miss Hoffman's home is in Snyder, Nebraska.
