

VOCATIONS

TAILOR SHOP

Mr. James, the tailor instructor, went to Portland last week and visited all the big tailor shops. He was trying to find a place for one of the boys and also to see what kind of work other shops were doing.

Hadley John made an overcoat for himself and is now making a cut away suit.

Frank Amyotte is also making a suit and overcoat for himself.

The rest of the tailors are making good progress and we hope they keep it up.

JUNIOR COMMERCIAL

The junior commercial students are making personal and family budgets during the Business Science period. Some students declare the latter budget will be of special value to them in the future.

By displaying cleverness with the typewriter, Rosalie Sayers has proved herself capable of typing eighty-two words with no errors in the one minute test.

PAINT SHOP

The boys of the paint shop have been quite busy at Mr. Allen's house, where they touched up the walls, woodwork and revarnished the floor in both the living and dining rooms.

From Mr. Allen's house the painters went to the Winona hall where they are putting the touch of a paint brush to the guest room. The walls are to be given several coats of paint and the woodwork is to be revarnished including the floors.

MACHINE SHOP

The boys in the Machine shop have been busy trying a new line of work closely connected with machine work that is moulding or casting with aluminum. William Sigo is busy making braces for a new line of faucets to be installed in McNary hall. William Boe and Homer Settler are still making bar bells for strength. Roy Pepion has been busy designing belts and knives for the rest of the boys. He has also just completed a half dozen lamp holders for Mr. Showalter. The rotators are working on chisels and center punches to help fill their tool kits.

BAKING

The Bakers made the large cake for the Chemawa birthday celebration on the 25th.

The plumber boys have made a new drain board for the bakery shop and have placed a tin sheet metal over the tables.

LEATHER CRAFT

The shoe shop is doing the regular repair work and holding classes and studying the structure of the foot.

The rotators are making belts, book ends, and other small leather articles.

SENIOR COMMERCIAL

The senior commercial students have just completed their typing designs. Some very artistic and original designs made on the typewriter were: An Indian Head, Basket of Flowers, A Wash Woman, The Old Dutch Mill, "Scotty" the dog, and others.

PRINT SHOP

Many of the younger students have made themselves stationery and a few pooled together in making memo books which have been in great demand by the students. Three large jobs are in the process: 10,000 blanks for the Colville Agency are nearly completed, all the work being done by Elias Quaempts. . . 10,000 time cards which will be printed on both sides are ready for the press.

CARPENTER SHOP

Louis Levay is making a mahogany chest, lined with cedar. Since the chest is for Mrs. Jackson, he is using his best skill and workmanship in putting it together.

Milo Enick is making some lamps for Kola Tepee. They are of maple and Spanish cedar combined and of maple, and walnut. He also made a trophy case of myrtle for Dr. Johnson

HOME ECONOMICS

The Junior home economic girls, under the supervision of their foods teacher, Mrs. Groop, served a banquet on February 24 at Hawley hall to all of the football players. Superintendent Jackson, Mr. Larsen, Coach Wilder, Mr. Sanders, Mr. Hauser, Mr. Turney, Mr. McKinney and Mr. Shawver were among the guests who attended.

The cake sale sponsored by the home economics girls proved to be quite popular. Many came home with the exclamation and discouraged look of "No more cakes, all sold out."

◆ Campus News ◆

We were honored Thursday, February 25, by having the Salem band out to help celebrate Chemawa's Birthday.

Mrs. Turney is now teaching her music pupils compositions by a very well-known composer, Stephen Foster.

Joseph Medicine Crow, who is attending Linfield College, was a visitor at this school last week.

Robert Sicade, a former student of this school, was a campus visitor last week. He is now attending the University of Washington.

Mr. George Bent and Miss A. White, of Salem, were our visitors on Chemawa's 57th Birthday.

One of the hospital helpers, Oliver Jackson, was severely burned while tending the furnace, but he is on the road to recovery.

Mr. John Williams of Siletz, Oregon, was the oldest Chemawa graduate here on Chemawa's 57th birthday.

Albert St. Martin, a former student who is working in Camas, Washington, was here for a few days to visit.

The mother of Loree Vivette has been visiting with her daughter Loree during the past week.

The Catholic priest is organizing the C. Y. O. into a basketball team and has high hopes of taking them to Portland.

Herman Grant, a graduate of the class of '34," was a visitor on the campus for the week-end. He is going to school in Portland.

Larry Orton and George Cummings, ex-Chemawa students, were visiting here Sunday afternoon. Both are working in Portland.

John Edleman, '28 graduate of the old school, visited old friends on Monday of this week. John was a surprise to his old "pals" and all were delighted to see him. A cartoon in the '28 annual depicts him in his favorite past time.

Mr. Tom Hanbury was on a short visit to Chemawa to spend a few days with his daughter, Lillian, who is attending school in this institution. Mr. Hanbury gave a speech about old Chemawa days which everyone enjoyed.