

SOCIETY

THE Winona literary society held a meeting Tuesday Nov. 8. They discussed old and new business. They adopted the drawn constitution as it stood with the society being able to amend it in the future by a majority vote. Mrs. Zeiboff is now the sponser of this society, for Mr. Larsen must be free to visit all societies. They will be prepared to debate at the next meeting.

THE famous Reliance Society met Monday night and discussed many important subjects. We have new members, including Adam Bearcub and Matt Mireau. The "Mighty Execlors" have challenged us to a basketball game and we accept their challenge, (any time).

Under the direction of Miss Cruise the Senior class held their first meeting Friday, Oct. 28, to elect officers. The following officers were elected: Iris Hogsed, President; LeRoy Wilder, Vice president; Erma Chamberlin, Secretary and Edward Archambeau, Treasurer.

ON Friday, October 28th, the Junior class, under the sponsorship of Miss Wentzel, met in the High School building to elect officers for the coming year. The following were elected: President, Donna Mae Courville; Vice-president, Arthur Shilo; Secretary, Elsie Contraro; Treasurer, Sina Thompson; Sargeant-at-arms, Matt Mireau; Class Reporter, Glen Black.

From the enthusiastic turn-out for the first meeting, the Junior class will really go places this year.

THE sophomore class, under the sponsorship of Miss Hoffman, elected the following class officers at their first meeting of the year: Delbert Olney, president; Nellie Walters, vice-president; Marie Hall, secretary; Maizie Wilder, treasurer.

THE freshman class, with Mr. Totten as their sponsor, elected the following class officers: Clarence LaRoque, president; Fay Stinger vice-president; Lena Davis, secretary; Tony Revais, treasurer; Philip Whiteclay, sargean at-arms; Frank Medicinehorse, reporter.

THE Nonpariel society had an excellent debate at their last meeting, Monday, Nov. 7. We discussed our plans for the next meeting which is to be a 'professor quizz program.' Mrs. Jackson suggested that we plan our program for the whole semester. The meeting closed with songs and yells.

THE Girl scouts met on Monday evening, Oct. 31, with a large attendance and much club spirit in the realization that they are striving to make this year one of the most active in Chemawa Girl scout history.

Four patrols have been organized, the leaders of which are: Rosanna Stacona, Fleda Foster, Thelma Shane, and Betty Arthur. Assistant leaders are: Violet Murphy, Agnes Skahan, Doris Ingawanup, and Barbara Whitelaw. Names for the patrols have not yet been decided upon. November 2nd has been scheduled as the meeting for Tenderfoot Tests. They will be able, as soon as these tests are passed, to have a rally at Chema-wa to which Girl scouts from neighboring towns will be invited. Money making schemes have been discussed and knot tying has been practiced in preparation for the event.

This year the troop is to keep a log or scrap-book which, during the making, will be in charge of Gladys Foster, troop scribe.

McBride Hall Enjoys Party

ON the evening of the 21st, the little girls had a party at McBride Hall. The program was given by the small children as follows: Song by Dora Tom; Tap dance by Lucille Hevawah; Song and dance number by Rose Paul, Mary Ann Greenlose, Eleanor Charley, and Ethel James; Dance by Betsy Lou Brisboise; Solo by Rose Mary Scott. The guests were greeted by our witch, Phylis Miller. Mrs. Lane's and Mrs. Cronk's classes made the decorations which were enjoyed by the girls.

The older girls had their party a week later and games were enjoyed by everyone. Mrs. Lane told fortunes in Halloween fashion. This program followed: Duet by Myrtle Goudy and Edith Kanine; Harmonica selection by Irma Quintasket; Duet by Marcella Heitner and her Mother; Song by Ruth Charley, Isabel Finley and Harriet Colwash. The hostesses were Mrs. Heitner and Mrs. Zulioff.

Six of our students have been in the hospital the past week with the chicken pox.
