

SHOP TALK

MACHINE SHOP—The project boys, under the supervision of Mr. Allen, are learning the art of Blacksmithing. They are: Francis Berger, William Young, Joe Hillaire, Darvin Lorenz and Richard Wood. Tony Shoulder Blade, and Bud Archambeau are studying welding.

BARBER SHOP—NOTICE: Everyone had better do their Christmas hair-cut shopping because this place is likely to be quite busy. Remember, a permanent wave is a good Christmas present.

We are practically through cutting the little kids hair and also "Cherry" Farron's. Don't get excited, it's his real hair and not a wig.

FLASH! Hector "Crosby" Basil can shave himself, not mentioning the cuts.

FARM MECHANICS—Joe Eneas, former 60 min. varsity football star, is keeping in trim by handling the bulldozers and caterpillars of the farm. At the present Joe and Daniel Jamison are helping the E. C. W. men, who are overhauling an Allis Chalmer, imported from Yakima.

AUTO SHOP—Raymond Andrews and Irvin Dowd put in half a day of labor at the Valley Motor Co. to get experience on the adjustment of machinery. They are now going to have complete charge of estimating the cost of overhauling the project truck, and the cheapest method of putting it in good running order. The new boys are studying the fundamentals of the automobile.

They are: "Trickfighter" Wounded Eye and "Hook" Alvin Bobb.

BAKERY SHOP—On Dec. 15, the bakery boys journeyed to Salem to visit the Master Baking Company to see some of the machinery that is used there.

HOME ECONOMICS—Under the direction of Mrs. James each class drew names, and in every spare moment they can be found occupied in making Christmas gifts for one another.

The Senior Commercial girls are also making Christmas gifts for each other. They are starting on their bed spreads and rayon dresses.

Under the direction of Mrs. Sanders the Junior and Sophomore girls are making dainty and useful Christmas gifts for one another. They have made curtains for Brewer hall and kept the linen and other articles of all the buildings well mended.

Under the direction of Mrs. Cronk the Home Management class is planning food budgets. They are striving to make a balanced menu that will provide everything for a healthful diet.

I just give them a break

Senior

LEROY Wilder was born at Orleans, California on November 2, 1919. He attended the Eureka High school for ten years, then came to Chemawa to finish his last two years of high school, and to take up a vocation. He chose painting and his ambition is to take up painting and commercial art.

LeRoy enjoys hunting, fishing and drawing, and if you happen to drop into room 48 in Brewer hall, you will hear him telling some of his exploits of hunting bear in the California wilds, or of a fishing trip to the mountain streams, where all you had to do was drop your line in the water and you had a fish.

When asked his opinion of the social hour, he said, "The girls never bother me, although I indulge quite frequently, just to give them a break."

LeRoy has played on the football team and basketball team one year, and saw plenty of action in both sports. He was also manager of the basketball team.

Mr. Wilder has been an officer for the past two years and is a willing and efficient leader. He is always ready for duty and never shirks from work. It was indeed a wise move when this capable young man was chosen for Vice President of the Senior class. He has proved himself capable of any responsibility that may arise and is one that will see it through till the end.

Society News

ON Wednesday evening, Dec. 14, the Winonas met under the leadership of Barbara Whitelaw, because their president, Rosemary Young was ill. Laws and by-laws were drawn and the Constitution was adopted. The greater part of the evening was devoted to making plans for the Christmas holidays.

THE Nonpareil held their meeting Wednesday evening under the direction of Miss Orva Hoffman, their new sponsor. Their president read an interesting, as well as an educational Christmas story from the Readers Digest. Mr. Larsen related a story of the Navajo Indians. In the Southwest, because of the lack of trees, cactus are used for their Christmas trees.
