

Items of Interest

Mr. George P. LaVatta, head of Indian Organization in the Northwest, was a recent visitor on the campus, giving an interesting review on the Home Room Survey projects to the student body and faculty in the auditorium.

On September 29th, under the direction of Mrs. Turney, several class groups and individuals gave a splendid musical program which was enjoyed by everyone at the chapel service.

A luncheon was served in honor of Miss Edna A. Gerken, Supervisor of Health Education, at Hawley Hall, on October 4th, by a group of senior girls. After the luncheon Miss Gerken gave a discussion of Health Problems and Safety Hazards in the auditorium for the Home Room students and teachers.

Mrs. Black, Girls' Educational Adviser, has been absent from duty several weeks, due to illness. The students are anxiously waiting her return and wish her a speedy recovery.

Wesley McWain, student at Willamette University, entertained the students and faculty members with a splendid program in Chapel on October 6th. He provided many a hearty laugh, and the audience was fascinated by his novel piano solos.

This year, students find the system for physical examinations much more effective when they make their own appointment through their Home Room with Dr. Faxon.

A group of Silverton high school students gave a short "Pep" program, prior to Friday's football game, in the auditorium the morning of October 12. Several musical numbers were given, and members of their student body staff were introduced.

The Chemawa Student Body Council and a group of talented students give a similar program, in return, in the afternoon in the Silverton auditorium.

Students enjoyed the movie, "Three Cheers for the Irish," in the auditorium, Saturday evening, October 12th.

The Girl Reserves and Hi-Y Club members enjoyed the afternoon at a picnic at the home of Mrs. Paul Kitzmiller in Dallas, on Sunday, October 13.

The National Youth Administration (N.Y.A. project) pays the tuition of approximately twenty white boys, carefully selected from Marion, Polk, and Clackamas Counties, for the purpose of voational training. Half of the time these boys receive regular trade instructions with the regular students in the shops. The other time is spent in construction projects. One of these will be to construct a new Pigville. They have recently laid 1,800 feet of water main.

Club organizations are in the process of organizing, with plans of having at least one and not more than two business sessions a month. These clubs are in nature of hobbies or avocational interests. So far, students have been given the opportunity to express their choice as to which club they might wish to join. Further progress of the clubs will be reported in a future issue.

First Aid classes have organized with Mrs. Busick, of Salem, as the instructor. Girls' classes are on Wednesday and Thursday from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Boys' classes meet from 1:00 to 2:00 p.m. on the same days. These classes are the standard Red Cross First Aid Classes. Each student successfully completing the course will receive a Red Cross certificate.

One hundred and sixty-nine new fiction books are available in the library to upper classmen, the Freshmen being limited to older books, due to the great demand for the new ones.

The new books might be termed as "better reading" books, written by such authors as Grace L. Hill, Baylestone, J.C. Ferris and the like.

Students have taken a noticeable increase of interest in reading, from figures which show that 200 more books were checked out by both boys and girls this September. This does not include the reference books.

Eugene Kyote, class of '34, is the president of his Tribal Council on the Tongue River Reservation, at Ashland, Montana. He is one of the youngest presidents of the tribal council in the United States.

"Are You a Well Dressed Student?"

Do you rate high in the following points in neatness for school dress?

1. Clean teeth
2. Clean face, hands, and body
3. Clean and well pressed clothing
4. Hair combed neatly
5. Shoes clean and well polished
6. Finger nails clean
7. Hair cut (boys especially)
8. Wear clean socks
9. Clothing of harmonizing colors
10. Suitable dress

Help the California Home Room in trying to put over the importance of being well dressed and of upholding the good name that Chemawa already has.