

From the Vocational Departments

BARBER SHOP: The boys are busy with their usual routine every day, cutting hair, shaving, and giving shampoos. This week's book study is the structure of the bones in the head and face. The "Hauser Pomp" is giving the Barbers a real test giving this sort of haircut. Old "Chubby" Woundedeye lost his Barber shears, and turned the Barber shop inside out trying to locate it.

BAKERY: During the past week we have been cooking and baking cookies, peach cobblers, doughnuts, pies, cakes, and bread.

We have been studying about the different types of flours, shortenings, sugars, and what the yeast, salt, sugar, and malt does to the dough.

In addition to our usual routine we have been taking tests each week and go over them to discuss the questions among us. We are also making charts on the "Methods of Bread Making."

MACHINE SHOP: The farm shop boys working in the machine shop are building a cow barn.

They plan to have six cows and sell the milk to the employees on the campus. The boys in the morning division have changed the lathes about the shop. The drill press that was broken is being welded together.

AUTO MECHANICS: "Good old Walter" Mesplie has recently over-hauled the school truck. Frank Harrison installed new gears on the project pick-up truck. "Shorty" Cross replaced a new muffler on the Chevrolet pick-up. Ralph Wells is the tool boy for this week.

ELECTRIC SHOP: The Electricians have been finishing the wiring of the new practice house by Hawley hall. Odd jobs have been finished about the campus, especially in Winona hall.

SHOE SHOP: The shoe shop gang or the "Shirt-tail" tribe, as they are called, hope that all of you students and employees enjoyed your short vacation during Christmas. Also, the boys are busy repairing shoes of all kinds and learning the different ways to repair shoes. The boys missed "Tom Harmon" Yellowmule as he went home as soon as the football season was over.

PAINT SHOP: The boys in the paint shop have completed repainting Mr. Showalter's office, and the dressers in McNary hall. They have replaced windows of the Dairy Barn. They are waiting for spring to come around as they have numerous paint jobs to do outside.

CARPENTRY: Under the sub-foreman, "Rosebud" Douthit, the crew, "Jiggs" Whitford, Will Teton, and Ben Bearchum figure on completing the new practice house inside of three weeks. "Whole Wheats" Grant and helper "Subs" Dilts from Alaska are building four new typewriter tables. Milo "Jake" Enick and his tall friend "Jee Wee" Alexander are still struggling with the new chicken house by the Grade School. Backbone and Captain Halfmoon took the lockers out of the rooms in Hawley hall so that the girls will have more room to work.

SEWING: The sophomore sewing class are finishing their semesters work, and are preparing for their examinations. Some of the girls have completed their woolen dresses, while others are weaving belts for their already finished dresses.

The girls in the junior class have completed the capes for the smaller girls, and have started on layettes. The capes have not been delivered for the reason that the little girls are to have their pictures taken wearing these capes and also the dresses which the sophomore girls have made.

The freshman clothing class are finishing up their flannel pajamas, and are studying about the manufacturing of woolen materials.

In the Productive Sewing class, the junior girls are making little dresses for the McBride hall girls. The freshman girls are making aprons, pillow cases, and various articles in finishing up the work for the semester.

HOME RELATIONS: The Senior Home Relations class are studying problems of family relation. Examples of family problems are read and discussed thoroughly.

JUNIOR HOME MANAGEMENT: The girls in the Junior Home management class are making a study of house keeping problems. The two girls now living in the Junior Practice house are Marjorie Reynolds and Naomi Whitefox.

FOOD: All the foods classes are completing the semester's work, and are all taking general reviews of the work they have covered. A number of the girls are making posters to illustrate the classes of food, and their importance in the diet, and are using the body to illustrate the points.

COMMERCIAL: Both of the commercial classes are getting along fine. The two classes are up in their work for the semester, and the seniors have completed studying the first half of their book.

The Specials have been taking notes in chapel and they transcribe these notes. They took notes on the Umatilla meeting, and have transcribed them. Other work that the Special class has is mimeographing, and cutting stencils for this work.
