

Six Bright SENIORS

It was on the warm summer day of July 16, 1922, in Inchelium, Washington, that plump little "Chris" took her first quiet gaze upon the world. As she grew, Christine Covington or "Chris" became a quiet but friendly person, and in a few years, proved to be very studious. She went to school in Inchelium for ten long years, and in all that time she kept hearing about Chemawa, and its wonderful opportunities. Then in her junior year, she packed her little bag and flew down here with the "birds." Her reason for coming?— to get a better education, and look for a "certain species of birds."

Since then, Christine has proved herself a good worker, and a friend to all. "Chris'" highest ambition is to be a private secretary, so she is taking a commercial course this year, in the hopes of fulfilling her ambition. She is faithful to studies, and devotes much time to them.

But like the rest of us, she has her hours of pleasure and hobbies. "Chris" greatly enjoys working crossword puzzles, reading good books, and eating toasted sandwiches. Christine finds much pleasure in traveling and some day hopes to climb the Alps in Switzerland so she can yodel till her hearts contend, and maybe meet "him," (as she says he is a Swiss boy).

For sports activities, "Chris" prefers hiking and swimming, but says she enjoys watching basketball and baseball games.

Because Christine is an industrious girl, and never leaves a task unfinished, we know she will surely succeed. We all express our best wishes to "Chris" in reaching her goal in life.

Dave Halfmoon, who was born in the "Round Up City" Pendleton, Oregon, in the early '20's, now likes, above all to hunt and fish. Dave attended school in Pendleton, in the St. Andrews, and the St. Joseph's Academy before entering Chemawa.

For Chemawa, he has played baseball for two years, and football one year. He earned letters in both. He is in the Lettermen's Club, the Hiking Club, and the C.Y.O. He is now taking carpentry, but wants to become a forester. He enjoys reading books by Curwood. To Dave we wish much success.

It was in the beginning of spring, March 5, 1923, that Leslie Brendible came into this wide world of ours. Leslie learned his A. B. C's in the grammar school at Metlakatla, Alaska. A few years before coming to Chemawa he attended the Sheldon Jackson Mission School at Sitka, Alaska. His favorite sport is basketball. This year he played the center position on our varsity. This is his second year participating in track as he is now our most outstanding high jumper. For entertainment he likes watching movies packed with thrills and seeing exciting football games.

This being Leslie's second year at Chemawa, he is studying to become a successful printer. He is still undecided as whether he should further his education in a college or a university, but which ever he goes to we wish him much luck.

George Sloan, alias "Scrooge," was born on June 17, 1921, in Ronan, Montana. He went to school there until finishing grade school and upon hearing of Chemawa he entered in '37 to finally become a printer. He hopes someday to become an excellent printer. He is member of the C.Y.O., is the secretary of the McNary House Council, and is the manager of the boxing team. "Scrooge" likes to dance and to read adventure stories by London. His hobby is collecting pennants of different states and schools. Although he hasn't participated in any major sport he enjoys watching the games. To George we wish much happiness as he goes forth to achieve success as a printer.

Eugene S. Booth, was born on a mid-winter day of January 28, 1919, in a little town of Metlakatla, Alaska.

He attended the grammar school in Metlakatla for eight long years, and since most of his brothers and sisters went to school here at Chemawa and all graduated, he decided to further his education here and to learn some kind of a vocation so that he may earn a living in the days to come. This is "Gene's" fourth and final year in high school where he is studying to be an electrician.

For entertainment "Gene" likes to fool around with the gals, and to read a good thrilling book on rainy day. Although he does not go in for any kind of sports he likes to ice skate, dance, and swim. His greatest ambition is to go to college like his brother, Kenneth, and to become a fine electrician. To "Gene" we hope that his ambition may be fulfilled and that he may be a success as an electrician.
