

From the Vocational Departments

CARPENTER SHOP: Ray Brady and Wilber Ohlerking have been shingling Mr. Mason's house. They hope to complete it soon. "Bing" Tyler and "Little" Sams have been fixing the Merry-go-round for McBride hall. "Will" Teton and Davis have finished shingling the Hawley hall porch.

BAKERY: The "fat" bakers seem to have their work all lined out each day. Each seems to know what to do. "Bugs" Youngman and Cassimere make all the pastries, but they all have to help with the pies "All hands on deck" for the bakers when it's time to scrub.

SHOE SHOP: The shoemakers are kept busy by having to fix shoes for everyone in Chemawa. "Old" Walters is slightly blind so Demo comes to the rescue and finishes the shoes for him. Alex Stensger is doing good work in the shoe shop.

PRINT SHOP: Print shop has been very business-like for the past few weeks. They have all kinds of various jobs from different places. They have also been getting ready for the "Chemawa Annual."

TAILOR SHOP: The tailors are working hard getting the band suits ready. They are hoping to have them finished in about three weeks. "Baby" LaRoque is making a suit for Dr. Hendry.

BARBER SHOP: The barbers have been doing fine jobs in cutting hair. They also have a certain day when the grade school boys can get their hair cut. They have three senior girls taking barbering. June Simmons, Sybil Woods, and Margie Reynolds are the girls in this class.

PAINT SHOP: Mr. Wilder and his boys have been busy repairing windows in different buildings and in the cold storage room in the kitchen. They also have repainted the curtain in the auditorium and drew the picture of the "China Town" for the play that was put on by the senior dramatic class.

HOME EC. The girls in the production sewing class are busily sewing and making sheets to be used in guest rooms. Some of the girls are completing bathrobes for the hospital.

Freshmen sewing class girls are planning to start a unit on stain removals for discussions. Theresa Jefferson completed making a pair of flannel pajamas. Some are putting finishing touches on pajamas and finishing different patterns of night gowns. Four girls are making their own confirmation dress and veils.

The 7th grade self-improvement class have made charts, whereby they keep constant check on daily improvements, like brushing teeth, fingernails, and wearing clean, mended dresses.

The crafts class have been specializing in all types of weaving. They have been weaving belts. Lorraine Yellowstone has finished two place mats, and Gayle Lawrence is now making place mats on the loom, Margaret Murphy has completed a cap made on a "little loom." A beautiful job of weaving is being done by Emma Pohipe, who is making drapes for the office.

Formals of every hue and color, some with flared skirt and some with gathered skirts, are being made by the juniors. A full length tailored skirt is being made by Adeline Bazil.

The junior girls of Miss. White's class are making preparations for serving luncheons. The girls of the home management class are making articles, such as aprons, luncheon clothes, etc., to be left in the practice house.

In the crafts class Mable Purser made some black printed towels. Kathleen Young and Audrey Thorpe have been initiated into the art of woodburning.

The 8th grade foods class have been working on menus and have been preparing complete luncheons. They have also been making plans for future teas.

Many articles have been returned to the Red Cross. These are chiefly articles in "Bundles for Britain." The others in the class have been busily knitting sweaters of olive green for the army, and dark navy blue for the navy.

The eighth grade mending class of Mrs. Sanders have been kept busy with mending articles, and doing a grand job of keeping all the mending done.

The senior girls are busily working on formals. Some of the girls are almost finished with theirs and are just adding finishing touches.

After polishing the floors and washing windows and attending to other details, the senior girls have finally moved into the Practice House.

Defense training has been enlarged and another class has been organized with an additional teacher. This class meets from 8:30 p. m. until 3:00 a. m. each day.

The Victory garden committee, with Mr. James Shawver as the leader, had a meeting recently to organize a committee to make plans for an all out vegetable garden program which will include the participation of all students and employees to raise vegetables on our school farm.