

FEB 16 1943

CHEMAWA AMERICAN

A Publication Devoted to the Progress of Indian Education

VOLUME XXXXIII

CHEMAWA, OREGON, FEB. 5, 1943

NUMBER FOUR

Dean Maris Addresses High School Assembly

Dean Buena Maris of Oregon State College visited our campus on Jan. 27th. She talked to the high school students about the different ways in which people seek happiness. She stated security, recognition, adventure, and love as being the main points that every person experiences, and she also discussed youth problems. It was very interesting and we all enjoyed it. Mrs. Little, secretary of the Salem Y. W. C. A., accompanied her. We are greatly indebted to Miss Harris who made her visit possible.

Dramatic Club Performs at Grange

The dramatic club had the privilege of going to Keizer Grange to present a one-act play called "The Auction," for the entertainment of a county grange meeting on January 20.

The players enjoyed a chicken dinner before the performance. The play was carried off very well.

Don Williams acted as announcer. The cast members were: Martin Pepion, Dick Walker, Clifford McMeel, George Walters, William Mount, Laura Courville, Irene Large, Cecelia Sohapp, Ollie Mae Raboin, Naomi Kash Kash, and Audrey O'Connor.

The players took their own stage properties, which were under the direction of Dick Walker.

Everyone who went enjoyed himself and gave a good performance.

Orchids to You! . . .

Orchids to you, Mrs. James, for building up originality among the girls, by encouraging them to make their own patterns for various things and make their own designs.

The students will not only make use of their training here, but also in many years to come, especially the girls who will make homes of their own.

Orchids to these boys who voluntarily help Mr. Clingenpeel with the hotcake making: Bud Edden, Walter Champine, George Walters, Willie Mount, Matthew Stops, Glen Fritzler, Vincent Adolph, and Martin Pepion.

Orchids to those who have taken care of the sick students during the epidemic of measles: Dr. Ruby

D. Faxon; nurses, Miss Emily Zuidema, Miss Elinor Warner, Mrs. Leona Nopp, Miss Anna Clark, Audrey O'Connor, and Rose Mary Aubrey.

Miss Page says: Orchids to the seniors from the school for their spirit, dependability, and competence in giving a splendid and very enjoyable carnival. Orchids to their sponsors.

To James Gray and Eugene Kerson, for faithfully putting up the flag each morning and taking it down at night.

Chemawa Physician Marries

Dr. Ruby D. Faxon, who is well known on the Chemawa campus, was married Saturday, January 2, to Mr. James Needham. They exchanged vows at the Fireplace Room in the First Presbyterian Church in Salem, Oregon.

A reception was given for the couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Jackson.

Mr. Needham is an accountant from Portland, Oregon.

Dr. Faxon expects to be transferred to the Tacoma Indian Hospital in Washington. We will all miss her very much, but nevertheless we are wishing her much happiness in her new location and her new home.

Senior Carnival Huge Success

The Seniors had a great success with their annual carnival on January 27. They wish to express their appreciation to Mrs. Sanders for the five delicious cakes and to the bakery boys who made all the good doughnuts; Mr. Metzger for his splendid announcing through the whole carnival; Miss Margaret Harris for her very excellent job at analyzing handwriting; and the orchestra, composed of Corrine Lang, Mr. Robert Thomas, Mr. Gilbert Pepper, Bob Sanders, Ralph Jackson, and Bob Edden, for all the very "swell" music they played at the dance after the carnival; and to Miss Ruth Evelyn Morse, Mrs. Sanders, and Bob Sanders for selling tickets. The Seniors also wish to thank all of those who so generously responded to their white elephant drive and gave such lovely things.

The Chemawa campus was well covered with a glittering blanket of snow last week, which was later reported to be over fifteen inches.