Junior Prom

One of the loveliest parties of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom in the gymnasium on the evening of April 15. The room was beautifully decorated in pastel shades of crepe paper and spring flowers. The lighting effect added much to the beauty of the scene.

Students and employees in evening clothes added even more to the gay appearance of the hall. After the grand march the evening was spent in dancing. Punch and wafers were served.

The Juniors made splendid hosts and hostesses. Sponsors were Mrs. Cronk and Miss Wehunt.

Greetings to Students and Employees

Thank you for your very friendly welcome to your school. I am happy to be at Chemawa and each day become more appreciative of the splendid program you are carrying out here.

It is my privilege to have among my friends former students and employees of Chemawa and I can fully understand their loyalty to the school and its traditions.

I extend my congratulations on the completion of a successful year and my wish for a happy summer.

Mrs. Nell V. Brannon
Principal

Chicago Office Visitors

Dr. Willard W. Beatty, Director of Indian Education, paid us a visit on the week-end of February 12. His short time here was spent in conferences with department heads. On Sunday night he addressed the student body. We would welcome more frequent visits from Dr. Beatty.

Mr. G. Warren Spalding, Supervisor of Indian Education, spent the first part of February with us. During this time we began to feel quite well acquainted with him. He visited our classrooms and gave many welcome words of encouragement. We appreciate having him with us.

Mr. Larsen Retires

Retirement will soon claim one of our oldest friends here. Mr. Charles E. Larson is bringing to an end the last of his detail work as chief clerk.

Formerly a student of Chemawa, he was later band director and boys' adviser; a man of talents, he was one who used his arts in serving Chemawa for the good of Chemawa.

Since the early thirties we have known him as chief clerk; but in "Charley" all at Chemawa have found a counselor--one whose sound philosophy does not build a weak foundation. We shall miss Mr. Larson, to be sure; but might we remember that if all of us could be as diligent in the performance of our duties as he has been in these many years past, we could look back on a service to be proud of?

Miss Page Transferred

Miss Lucia Page, who has been transferred to the Santa Fe Indian School as principal, terminated her duties at Chemawa on March 20. She came to Chemawa in September, 1938, as grade school supervisor, and in November, 1941, became principal of all academic departments.

Miss Page has been a tireless worker for the best interests of the students of Chemawa, and they and the staff wish her success and happiness in the Southwest.

First Sgt. Wauseka Hauser of the Marine Corps, returned from Hawaii to visit his mother, Mrs. Dollie Hauser. While on furlough, Wauseka married Miss Ethel Tomal, of Browning, Montana.
