

News Briefs

Mrs. Lillian Bristow, from Tule Lake Relocation Center, is to be the girl's adviser when Mrs. Ivy leaves to join her husband in Phoenix, Arizona.

The Chemawa Hi Y, sponsored by the Reverend Allen Wilcox, has formed a basketball team which competes with other church teams from Salem.

Mr. Stanley Poch took over his new duties as chief clerk on September 10. Before coming to Chemawa he was employed in the Indian Office in Chicago. We welcome Mr. Poch and his family to the campus.

Recent guests of the Shepards were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Gritts of Farragut, Idaho, and Mr. Irving Shepard of Seattle. Mr. Gritts was wounded when the Franklin was struck off the coast of Japan and is convalescing in the naval hospital at Farragut. The Gritts and Shepards were formerly neighbors at Haskell Institute.

Preston Bell, former student at Chemawa, and his wife, the former Sina Thompson, visited the campus on January 8. Mrs. Bell is a graduate of Chemawa and was employed as matron at Brewer Hall for some time before she entered the WAC, in which organization she saw foreign service. Mrs. Bell is the sister of the boys' adviser, Mr. Coquelle Thompson.

Captain Milton James, son of Mrs. Mary James, is visiting with her during his terminal leave. Capt. James is a former Willamette university student and is graduate of Salem high school and Kansas university. He entered the service February 13, 1942, at Fort Lewis, Washington, and was sent to Texas for training. He took his officer's training in Carolina, and was sent overseas from California. He was in Hawaii for thirty months working in the field of radar. He is the holder of the Bronze Star. Chemawa welcomes him back.

Fred Rickard, class of '29, was discharged from the Marine corps in November, 1945, and has returned to his family on the campus. He has re-enrolled at Oregon State college. Mr. Rickard was overseas 29 months with the 2nd Marine division participating in the Tarawa, Saipan, and the Okinawa campaigns. He was wounded at Saipan. While recuperating at the Naval hospital in Hawaii he met Henry Courville, former student, also recovering from a leg injury. Mr. Rickard visited the grave of Louis Beaudry in the marine cemetery on Saipan. Mr. Rickard was formerly boys' adviser here.

All for Fun—Fun for All

The "Fall Carnival" was a very gala affair on the Chemawa campus on the eve of November 16, 1945. The decorations were carefully planned and executed to add a luster to the booths.

The doors opened at 7:00 p.m. and the first places visited were the pop and refreshment booths. Hot dogs, fruit rolls and coffee seemed the way to anyone's heart.

The high spots were the bingo and fortune telling booths. They were most popular all evening. Many came out smiling, others were not quite so happy.

The cake raffle was quite a thrill. Most everyone wished their number would be drawn because the cakes looked delicious.

Everyone was as friendly as possible to the visitors helping them mix into our crowd very well.

The financial returns gave us great pride because we know everyone had a grand time.

We may consider ourselves fortunate having such a fine staff of employees with which to work, because it took everyone working together to make the carnival a success.

"This 'n' That"

We wonder why our "senior class president" enjoys Saturday nights in Salem? . . . What train did you run into Tommy? Was it the N.P., S.P., or R.W.? . . . What is it that has Lillian H. up in the clouds lately? . . . Bobby, what happened to the sideburns? Didn't she like you as Turhan? . . . Spud and Baby, do you often work at the barn after church? . . . Fred M., couldn't be the pretty lights that are so attractive in Salem, could it? . . . Who is this "Connie" we hear so much about boys? . . . Wonder where R.D. picked up the name "Doodles"? . . . A certain 10-B girl has to send to New York for that "special soap". . . What's wrong, Herbie, can't you make up your mind? Senior or sophomore?

What's in a name?—Tuney, Calvin Picard . . . Woody, Bobby Eickmeyer . . . Keetso, Big John . . . Edgar, Oliver Henry, (oh, oh) . . . Van, Chester Ashman . . . Gin, Minnetta Simmons . . . Doodles, Delicate Dumore . . . Hayseed, Bernita Hayward . . . The Voice, Holy Joe . . . Ritta, Genie Wolfe.

We all wondered why Terry did so well in the Golden Gloves Tournament but now we know. (Millie is back.)
