

SPORTS REVIEW . . . By Eickmeyer

Boxing

The Chemawa Indian boxing team took five boys to Portland on February 27, to box in Portland Multnomah club's Flying "M" gym. Of the boys making the trip Art Johnson and Francis Cherette were the only Chemawa boys represented in the ring for the evening. Francis Cherette, 112-pound class, lost to Bob Henry of the P. A. Y. club. Art Johnson fought a thrilling bout to walk away with the cup in the 135-pound bout.

On the same evening four Chemawa boys went to Woodburn and fought in the Woodburn high school gym. Curtis Stacona won by a decision over his man in the 115-pound class. Bob Kutch won by a decision in the 126-pound class. Joe Pinkham decided his opponent in the 147-pound class, and Gene Lahr won by a K.O. in the second round of his bout.

On March 13, 14, 15, Chemawa's boxers went to Portland to fight for a chance to make the trip to Boston for the National A A U Championship. Of the boys from Chemawa, Ralph Weiser, 135-pound class, put his brother Lorenteno down for the count in the third round of their fight on the final night of the fights and is Boston-bound.

Track

Track call has been sounded and the boys are piling out. Old hands and new hands are coming out on call. Cal Picard will take care of Chemawa's hurdles, high jump, and pole vault; Wally Yallup is master in dashes; Fred "Arne" Anderson will handle the half mile; while Zeke Towner and Bob Eickmeyer will take care of the mile. Terry Francis and George Miller should handle the discuss fairly well, also shot put. All the above-mentioned boys are from last years' Duration championship team and the team needs new material to fill the places of members not returning from last years' squad.

Baseball

At the first signs of spring the boys who were baseball minded were seen out limbering up their arms and getting in shape for the season of baseball ahead of them. Some of the boys from last year's team seen out were Chet Ashman, last year's pitcher; Levi

Wislon, veteran catcher; Tommy Williams, George Miller, Fred Miller, Levi George, Joe Pinkham, and a few others of last year's players and also a few new faces in the baseball line. These boys who are out for baseball this spring should keep Chemawa's name near the top this year in the league.

Home Economics

Interviewing in the homeconomics building the senior reporter brought this information about the different classes:

The senior girls under the tutorship of Mrs. James are making a variety of articles for their wardrobe. Casual suits are the item of popularity.

The junior girls, under the direction of Mrs. Cronk, are entering the practice house soon for a period of three weeks. They will go in groups of three.

While in the house they will do their own cooking, house cleaning, and laundry. Right now they are specializing in preparing dainty lunches.

The sophomores with Mrs. James are reviewing and making blouses. Soon they shall be making articles of a more complex nature.

The 8th grade girls are planning and preparing breakfasts.

Educational Trips

The junior and senior high school students have taken some very interesting educational trips during the past month. Miss Dodrill with her seventh grade students visited the School for the Blind and the Deaf school. Miss Ziebach and the eighth graders visited the School for the Blind and the Deaf school. Miss Morse with the juniors visited Fairview home, she also accompanied the seniors on a trip to the State Penitentiary.

Ag Club Room (Continued from page 1)

The boys are proudest of all of the fireplace. It is made of cut stone and was a big job. Other than the throat of the fireplace the boys, under supervision, did most of the work, from hauling the rock and laying the foundation and hearth to cutting the stone and laying the inside rock work.

Their next step is to get it furnished as they have planned. This will require some money and they are busy formulating plans as to how this money can be raised.