

News Notes

Joe Pete, former Chemawa student, was a campus visitor. Joe is in the air corps.

Word has been received that Gilbert Towner, former student, has joined the Marines and is located at San Diego, Calif.

Florence Ingawanup's unit II won the unit awards for this period. This is the second time this unit has won this year. The prize was a trip to Salem to a show.

In our story last issue telling of Mr. J. S. Kunkel's gift to the small children of the school our report was only half right. Mr. Kunkel increased the kids' Christmas fun by $10 and not $5 as we reported.

The Brewer hall girls are organized in groups according to grades. These groups are working to keep the hall neat and to have good conduct. The group leader, June Richards, helps the house councilor.

THE VALUE OF AN EDUCATION

Education is the back-bone of living. Without it we are like fish in a desert, camels in the sea. In other words, we are lost.

What becomes of one when he is uneducated? Is it possible to lead a normal life? Seemingly the average individual cannot lead either a normal or happy life when they lack abundant education.

About ninety percent of our prison inmates are men who didn't have any schooling. They took to ways of crime when no decent job, due to their lack of education, could be found.

We will all make better American citizens if we have a high school and college education, as school teaches us the proper way of American living. Yes, as to the value of an education there is no end. Get yours now while the opportunity is here.—Dawn Andrews.

JUNIORS HAVE PARTY

The Juniors had a pre-Christmas party December 24 in their classroom.

The game, "Cootie," furnished entertainment for the group. Delores Racehorse won first prize. A delicious lunch was served.

CAN YOU TOP THIS?

The eighth graders hold the top honors in the contributions to the tuberculosis fund drive. Their total donation was $9.69.

I like to read books all the time in school. We learn to read out of books. Our teacher helps us to read books. I like the new children that come in. I like the matrons, too. We like our pig, "Blossom Rose." I like the teacher too. I like to look at pictures. I am in the third grade.—Trena Super.

Varsity Basketball Scores

Chemawa 21, Dayton 26.
 Chemawa 38, Sublimity 28.
 Chemawa 20, Dayton 42.
 Chemawa 30, Yakima Indians 16.
 Chemawa 45, Central Lutheran 32.
 Chemawa 45, Hubbard 37.
 Chemawa 43, Sublimity 41.
 Chemawa 31, Independence 29.
 Chemawa 32, Stayton 30.
 Chemawa 25, Stayton 28.
 Chemawa 43, Moro 26.
 Chemawa 32, Independence 22.

Basketball Review

The lineup on the Varsity team is as follows, "A" squad: Delford Crain, Robert Kutch, forwards; Richard Hillaire, center; Dilton Switzler, Edward Henry, guards; subs, Vernon Lane, George Cagey, Reginald Wells, William Belgard.

Vic Jackson and Buddy Kalama became eligible in the second semester and were welcomed back to the squad.

ALL-STARS ORGANIZED

The Chemawa "All-Stars" basketball team is composed of seven players who are not eligible for the Varsity team. They are Victor Jackson, Melvin Eagleman, Levi George, Fred Kalama, Omer Winishut, Nathaniel Baker and Joe Pinkham.

The team's scores to date are as follows:

All Stars 76, Central Lutheran 32.
 All Stars 8, C. I. S. Varsity 6 (one quarter).
 All Stars 63, C. I. S. B 25.
 All Stars 55, Navigation 65.
 All Stars 76, Central Lutheran 32.

BOXERS LOSE

Dec. 30 the boxing squad lost to Yakima boxers, 4-3, with Dave Shellal winning the main event by T.K.O. in third round. He defeated the pride of the Yakima club. Other winners were Carrol Ginsaw, Curtis Stacona. L. J. Hunt, coach of Yakima, said, "Chemawa fighters are the finest sportsmen and boxers we've ever met."

January 14 the boxing squad journeyed to Eugene only to lose six out of eight bouts. In the main event Melvin Eagleman lost a close decision to Denny Quinn. David Shellal and Louis Belgard won their bouts for Chemawa.

Dr. Leslie L. Stone, contract physician, his family and Dr. Cissler have taken up their residence on the campus.