EDUCATIONAL TRIP TO MT. ANGEL CREAMERY

On October 25 the 10th, 11th and 12th grade Ag boys went to the Mt. Angel creamery. We saw how they made cheese and powdered milk.

In making powdered milk, the water is taken out of skim milk by means of a hot vat which evaporates the water.

We saw the cheese when it was ready to be pressed and covered with wax. The cheese was then put into a cooler.

On our way back we went to Mr. Thomas' place to see his Hereford pigs. He has quite a good stock.

MR. BRUSH, NEW DAIRYMAN

Mr. Lawrence Thomas resigned from his position October 26, to take one near his home in Silverton. Mr. Joe Brush, of the Pipe Stone school, is the new dairyman at Chemawa.

Students of the agriculture department have been working hard in preparation for their class and individual projects. They have completed them now and pens and feed are ready for use.

We want to welcome Mrs. Tom Kizziah to Chemawa. She returned with Mr. Kizziah following their marriage last month in Texas, where Mr. Kizziah spent his vacation.

Our barns and agriculture buildings are very attractive in a gleaming new coat of paint.

VISIT LIVESTOCK EXPOSITION

On October 6 we went to Pacific International Livestock Exposition. On our arrival we met Mr. LaVatta, Mr. Murray and Mr. Tisinger. After we were admitted we immediately went to the stock judging show. There we tried to pick the stock and place them the way we thought, but some of our guesses were not right. But we found out what to look for and how to judge. (Ralph Charles, Gr. 12)

We all went to the livestock sale where they were auctioning hogs and beef cattle. The grand champion

MINSTREL SHOW BIG SUCCESS

The Senior class started the year's assembly programs with a presentation of "Community Minstrels." It was presented again at Turner high school as an exchange assembly program and the senior class members received wild applause throughout both shows. Mr. Vincent Matt did the part of Sheriff Holdem, the Interlocutor; William Belgarde was Jake, the first right end-man; Freda Bent was Minnie, second right end-woman; Vernon Lane was Spinach, first left end-man; Florence Ingawanup was Sarah, second left end-woman. John Crane took the part of Mose; Alvin Settler, of Ned. Vernon Lane, Florence Ingawanup, William Belgarde and Phyllis Miller sang special solos in addition to several numbers by the entire chorus. Instrumental numbers were furnished by William Belgarde, Victor Jackson and Vernon Lane.

At the Turner showing of the Minstrels, appropriate names of Turner instructors and students were inserted, replacing Chemawa names, thus adding appeal and local color.

BEGINNERS ARE HAPPY

The beginners are happy to have Viola Sohapp in school again. Viola was in the hospital for two weeks because of a broken arm.

sold for $1.50 a pound and the reserve champ for 61 cents a pound. (Joe Felsman, Gr. 11)

I made a choice of a bull but, not knowing much about them, didn't do so well. The one I picked came fifth in line. I was kind of disgusted about my bull coming in so low and didn't know whether or not to try to pick another winner. But I did try again and did a little better, putting my calf in fourth place. After that I thought I would watch and see how the judges placed them and why. They sure named out a lot of places I never looked in judging, therefore showing how much I didn't know and would look for next time. (Don Rambeau, Gr. 11)

FOODS LAB GIVEN "NEW LOOK"

The senior girls have given a "new look" to the foods laboratory by making new curtains and painting table tops and stools in matching colors. They are trying out a new plastic finish called "Wipe-On." If this proves to be as satisfactory as it promises, we hope to use it on our floors and other work surfaces.

There are three divisions of 9th grade girls taking home economics clothing. One division is being instructed by Mrs. James. The other two are taught by Mrs. Jeannette Hauser. Some of the 9B girls are making skirts for their assembly program.

INTERESTING MOVIES BOOKED FOR DECEMBER

December promises Chemawa students and employees some unusually fine movie-going entertainment. "Fort Apache," an RKO production, is scheduled for December 4. We were fortunate in being able to book "The Miracle of 34th Street" for December 11. On December 18 "Road to Rio," a Paramount picture, will be featured and a Metro Goldwyn-Mayer production, "This Time For Keeps," will be shown Dec. 25.

NINTH GRADE NEWS

We elected class officers and selected students that we can depend on. We chose Violet Lane, president; William Shellal, vice-president; Nancy Butler, recording secretary; Wilma Celestine, corresponding secretary; Rodney Davis, treasurer. Sergeants-at-arms are Billy Bourgeois and Vesta Lane. Our reporters are Nancy Samuels, Delores Tashwick, Rosalie Wilkinson, Jim Dempsey and Laura Mae Conway. (Cynthia Switzer)

Mrs. Pearl Jackson, of Beatty, Oregon, visited with her sons Victor and Robert, students at Chemawa, last week.

The junior class gave an impressive Armistice Day assembly.
