

DOWN ON THE FARM

Mr. Brush, head dairyman, showing three very good cows, one of which gives ninety pounds of milk a day . . . Mr. O'Reilly and Mr. Kiz-ziah spraying the apple orchard with lime sulphur for scab control.

Ninth grade project — Louis Belgarde, Richard Barrett, Gabriel Spottedeagle, Charles Sampson, Rodney Davis, Jim Dempsey, William Cagey and Clifford Matt with two of their three market hogs. These pigs were purebred Poland Chinas and sold at top market grade . . . Jim Whitworth with his project pig.

Ralph Charles brushing and feeding his project porker . . . Danny Foster and Don Rambeau doing some of the spring plowing.

Don Rambeau had the prize live-stock project this year. He is shown here with his project which he raised to top honors through good care and proper feeding . . . Auggie Dick and Henry Trahan made pets of their calves. They broke them to lead, curried them every day and really did a good job raising them.

Jim Whitworth corrugating orchard to prevent soil crusting and to conserve moisture . . . Reginald Wells and "Baby," the joint project of Reggie and Robert Davis.