

Superintendent's Message

You, the graduating class of 1949, will face a future which is full of many opportunities but one in which it will sometimes be hard to clearly chart your journey. There will be many times when difficulties and disappointments will cross your paths. Your success will largely be determined by how you meet these reverses, incidents of life which you are sure to face. It is our sincere hope for you that your training here has equipped you to make the proper choice, and to always remember that there is a wrong and right side on the road of life and that one side can only lead to a life of disappointment and misery and the other side to a life of service and satisfaction. Our best wishes go with you.

R. M. KELLEY,
Superintendent.
