

Shop Talk

The electric shop, where the sparks fly, is a busy spot on the campus this year. Besides the daily routine the boys have been working on repairing radios, electric motors, and many other interesting electrical devices. The boys in this shop are Thomas Patchpe, Billy Borgeau and Thomas Grant. Mr. Lester Bolton is the instructor.

Although the print shop is still far from being completed, it is attempting to carry on its work. There is still carpentry work, masonry, and electrical work to be done in the shop. As the show must go on, the printers have published two issues of The Chemawa American, printed identification cards for Warm Springs Agency, student membership cards for the Chemawa student body, the campus telephone directory, and some imprinting on voucher forms. Congratulations for a job well done in getting the shop in order and work turned out goes to students George Williams, Edgar Lewis, Janice Rambeau, Eulalia Minthorn and their instructor Mr. Allan Shepard.

This year the shoe shop keeps nine boys busy. Mike Pelletier, a veteran of the shoe shop, along with his regular work, is assisting Mr. Ashcutt in supervision and waiting on customers as the shop is swamped each morning. The groups are co-operating nicely in getting their shoes in for repair before they are beyond repairing. This is a great help to the shoe repair boys and it also saves shoe materials. We have passed the record in the number of pairs of shoes repaired made by the boys last year. The repair boys will start a course in invisible shoe soling soon. The following boys carry on the work in the shoe shop under the supervision of Mr. Ashcutt: Delford Markussen, Rodney Davis, Irvin Pratt, Bud Weiser, Louis Jerry and Virail Lane.

The paint shop is the place to call when you wish to have the buildings look bright and new. The boys in this shop have been working on a project of repairing and refinishing teachers' desks. The students in the shop have completed their first quarter tests and are planning on re-decorating their own shop soon.

There are five boys in the carpenter shop this year. They are kept busy with repair jobs and their projects. At present the boys are learning how to use each piece of machinery in the shop and how to figure board feet.

The plumbing shop boys are hoping for a new floor, new office and new truck. When the last mentioned

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM

On Thursday, November 10, an Armistice Day program was presented by members of the junior class. The introduction was given by Ernest Lewis who explained that the program was an outgrowth of their classroom work on the unit of Democracy.

JUNIORS '51

Congratulations to the juniors who, after moving from room to room and teacher to teacher, at last have found a room and a teacher of their own. Their room is 7B and their teacher is Mrs. Johannaber.

Early in the quarter the junior class elected class officers as follows: Roger Satanis, president; Reginald Wells, vice-president; Loretta Quaempts, secretary; Delmer Hickox, treasurer; Sylvia Winnier, sergeant-at-arms; Tullulah Tulee and George Williams, reporters.

item leaves another land mark will have passed, as the old "Cracker-box" or "Yellow Hornet" is a reminder of bygone days. It has been in service since 1923 when it was an up to date school bus. The plumbing students are Ermine Belgarde, Vernon Henry, Grant Johnson, Oscar Gensaw, and Mike Sorondo.

The auto shop boys have done an overhaul job on a '46 pick-up. Two of the boys have taken their driver's test and have their driver's licenses; others have permits to drive on the campus. Mr. Matt, Mr. Speed and the auto-mechanics classes visited a battery factory and saw how batteries were made. Mr. Noel took George Plummer to the Salem Valley Welding supply with the farm boys where they saw a welding demonstration. After the demonstration they were all served doughnuts and coffee.

The new bakery crew seems to be right on the job in their new place. The average production of bread is 1200 loaves a week, besides 2436 cookies, 102 pies and 1250 biscuits. Each month each child whose birthday falls in that month receives a beautifully decorated birthday cake. For the months of September and October, 87 birthday cakes were made and decorated for the children.

The work in the kitchen has been lessened since it has been remodeled. Eight girls this year do the work of twelve girls last year and are serving 100 more students. The kitchen has been equipped with a new modern steam chef and ventilator. The meat room is a new addition. It is supplied with a new electric meat saw.

News Notes

Miss Swenson entertained Mrs. Cornell, teacher in the Capital business college, Salem, at dinner recently.

Mrs. George A. Brown was a recent dinner guest of her sister, Miss Gordon.

We are happy to report that Mrs. George Williams and Mrs. Frances Motoxin have returned from the Salem hospital where they have been confined. Both ladies had submitted to operations.

Miss Myrtle Peters was confined to the Salem General hospital recently, where she submitted to an eye operation.

The NFFE held their regular meeting in Hawley hall on Nov. 17. After the business meeting, the members were entertained with sleight of hand performances.

Mrs. Brannon was a luncheon guest and speaker of the Willamette chapter of the D.A.R. at Portland.

Reverend Father Nobart Fritz is the new Catholic chaplain on the campus. Father Fritz is from the St. Louis parish. Formerly, he was at Salem, in St. Joseph's parish.

Mrs. Gayle Fischer was added to the administrative staff as payroll clerk, taking the place of Noble Sanderville who was transferred to the Klamath Indian agency.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoy of Seattle, Washington, were on the campus the other day. They said they were on their vacation and wanted to go through the school. Mr. McCoy works in the supply depot for the Indian Service of Alaska.

Miss Alida C. Bowler, the California-Nevada placement officer, spent a few days at Chemawa in the interest of the Navajos. She works between the Navajos and the States of California and Nevada.

SPORTS BY PLUMMER

Chemawa wound up the football season in fifth place this year, with five losses to three wins. The last game was played on Armistice Day, in the rain, against Salem's J.V.'s. A wet, muddy field was what was needed for the team to score a victory of 6-13.

Chemawa scored, during the year, 53 points with 91 against, or an average of 6-2/3 points per game. The varsity will lose 4 players next year.

Games played—St. Paul 20, Chemawa 0; Turner 7, Chemawa 14; Sublimity 6, Chemawa 7; Geryais 20, Chemawa 6; Jefferson 6, Chemawa 0; Aumsville 7, Chemawa 0; Mill City 19, Chemawa 13; Salem J.V. 6, Chemawa 13.