

HOMEMAKERS CORNER

Miss Seaver is the home ec teacher for the 8th grade girls. In home ec we study health and what different kinds of foods are for in our bodies. As Miss Seaver's class is large, four girls go to the laundry. We take turns doing this. We have made many things in cooking class.

The 9th grade class in home ec changes classes every other day. One day they go to cooking and the next day to production sewing. When the class goes into cooking we do book work, which is for manners and the reasons for things in cooking and how they turn out. Miss Seaver has taught us to make cocoa, muffins, apple compote, cream of potato soup, prune sauce, biscuits, cinnamon bread and apple crisp.

In Mrs. Schultze's class the girls sew little boys' shirts, jeans and make aprons. When we do so much production sewing we sew for ourselves and make clothes bags, huck towels, embroider dresser scarfs, crochet and knit. The girls have also been working on pajamas and doing some work with primary and secondary colors.

The seventh grade girls are finishing their laundry bags which are decorated with their own names arranged in the students' choice of arrangement. They used bias tape and learned to make buttonholes on their laundry bags. They are making colorful hot pan holders for their mothers for Christmas gifts and a few have started their washable house slippers.

CAMPUS CHANGE

The other morning when the kitchen girls went to work, they noticed a big difference. Men had cut away the trees that were in front of Cramton hall.

HOLIDAY FUN

On Thanksgiving day, Mr. Hudson, boys' advisor, and Coach Kettleton planned entertainment for the students. The students were divided into teams and games were played for prizes. The coach watched the boys in action and no doubt began to pick teams. The Pep club tried out new yells which they have worked out for the Jamboree.

The students of Chemawa had a very nice treat on Armistice Day. There was a dance with music furnished by a trio which played very nice music and was entertaining. Students had a chance to see who had singing ability, and some of them sang. Chemawa students enjoyed themselves very much that night.

JUNIOR CLASS NOTES

The Junior class is off to a good start. The president, William Shillal, has conducted several meetings held to plan extra-curricular activities for the group and to set up standards for classroom conduct. The daily program is working smoothly, and the academic work is progressing. Report cards for the first quarter show that no one did too badly, but there have been many resolutions to do better work.

The class voted to join with the Seniors in a Christmas party, and in campus caroling on Christmas Eve. Together, the two classes are quite evenly divided as to the number of boys and girls, there being 22 boys and 24 girls. Good times are in the offing.

Members of the class wrote out suggestions from which a committee, made up of officers of the class, compiled a list of standards for good conduct in the classroom, school building, and auditorium. This is to be approved by the class.

The daily program has been arranged so that the Junior teacher, Mrs. Johannaber, can teach music classes. Mr. Kettleton teaches Health and First Aid every other day, and at other times the students go to Physical Education, the library, or to study in Mr. Johannaber's room.

One interesting activity is painting. Creative art is fun. One doesn't have to concentrate too much—just paint whatever comes to your mind even if it doesn't mean anything especially. The room is kept bright with colorful designs. The class is planning to make decorative maps in connection with work in American History.

Reporting is another interesting activity. It gives students the experience of expressing what they have read, and talking before an audience. So far the class has made reports on current events such as work of the United Nations, the Korean situation, and progress in science. Now the subjects for reports are from American history.

FOOTBALL

Our first football game was a practice affair with Mill City, which we won 26-7. Our second game was also with Mill City, this one being a league encounter, which we won 18 to 7. The next game was with Jefferson and here we went down to a fighting defeat, losing 6 to 2. The Sublimity Saints were our next opponents and here we played a scoreless tie which was hard to take, as we had some good scoring chances and muffed them.

SENIORS GIVE ASSEMBLY

On November 2, the Senior class presented the first assembly program of the school year. This assembly was in the form of a round table discussion with Delmar Hickox acting as moderator. Each member of the class had previously chosen a topic he or she wished to discuss and had read all the material available on it. This was done in our class of socio-economics.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Dr. Stone and Nurse Seawright say that a fairly good response is being received from parents in regard to having corrective work, dental and glasses, done for their children. Early correction means better health at less cost. Ask your parents to help you now.

The Navajo students are finding out what an isolation ward is like, as to date we have had 34 cases of mumps. Isolation would be more enjoyable if we had a radio and more games for our sick children to play.

Immunizations (shots to most of you) are being given for smallpox and diphtheria. Soon we will begin giving typhoid fever "shots." These diseases can be prevented by receiving a certain amount of vaccines. It is so much easier to prevent than to cure. The healthier we are now, the stronger we can expect to be as adults.

Children wearing glasses should use every precaution in wearing and caring for them. Handle them carefully. Wear them during the day, and at night, when you are not using them, put them in the case. Glasses are expensive. Please be careful with them.

The next encounter was also our last league game and this time our opponent was Gervais. The team played wonderful ball despite a driving rainstorm, winning finally 19 to 0. After this we engaged the Salem JV's in a post season and played a vicious hard driving game, emerging with a 35 to 13 count in our favor.

The last game of the season was played against Silverton and we came out on the short end of the score, 12 to 0. Play in this game was again of the hard driving variety, but lack of team co-ordination fouled up the playing situation considerably.

Season averages were as follows: Chemawa 102 points; Opponents 35 points.
