10B EDUCATIONAL TRIP

On March 7th at 1:00 p.m. the 10B went on an educational trip to Salem where they visited the paper mill, Forestry building, and Fairview Home.

We saw how paper was made, colored and cut at the paper mill. It was all very interesting. At the Forestry building we saw many different kinds of woods and learned what they were used for.

The Fairview Home is where the mentally retarded are taught. They are taught regular school and vocational subjects in which they do very nicely.

These different places were very interesting as none of us had had the experience of going through them before. We are all grateful to our principal, Mrs. Brannon, and our teacher, Mr. Johannaber, for making this trip possible.—Jacqueline Pyne.

KSLM SPELLING CONTEST

There was much competition in the seventh and eight grade students as they vied among themselves for the privilege of representing Chemawa at the KSLM spelling contest. In the final elimination Elizabeth Mullen was declared the first place winner with Duke Morton placing second and Ramona Calvin third. Elizabeth will attend the district contest which will be held at Keizer school, March 16th.

MRS. GERTRUDE SHOEMATE

The Chemawa employees and student body were saddened by the sudden death of Mrs. Gertrude Shoemate, on March 13th. Mrs. Shoemate was employed as matron in the girls' dormitories. The body was shipped to Lawton, Oklahoma, for burial. She leaves to mourn her sudden passing her husband and three sons, Jack, Junior and Billy. The employees and student body extend their sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

AT KIWANIS LUNCHEON

Queen Martina Quaempts and her court were guests of the Salem Kiwanis club luncheon Feb. 20. Chemawa's Birthday Queen is shown awarding a medal to Rev. George Swift who had just won the club's annual liars contest. Also in the picture is Loretta Quaempts.

BAND PARTY

The Chemawa Band, consisting of fifty-two members, had its annual party on March 17th. All members and guests had a most enjoyable time.

SPRING SNOW

Just lately we have had quite a lot of snow. It surely seemed good to look out and see snow all around us. There is just one thing wrong with the weather here in Oregon this year, that is it snowed at the wrong time. We thought it was going to stop raining and we were going to have some sunshine for a while, but then it started snowing. We would not have cared if we had had this much snow at Christmas time but then we had sunshine instead of the snow we would have liked.

There is one thing that is not so good when we have snow and that is snowballs. The boys' way of having fun is throwing snowballs and washing the girls' faces. It seems to be a lot of fun when there is a bunch of girls against a bunch of boys for then we can fight back.

You know everyone makes a mistake some time so I guess Mr. Weatherman just made a mistake about the weather arrangement this year. —Charlotte Moses and Maxine Faulkner, 8th Grade.

SPORTS

February 27th, Chemawa's basketball season closed, as we lost a one-point play-off game to Mill City. This game was played to decide who was the fourth team to go to the county tournament, Gates, Gervais and Jefferson being the others.

These are the scores of our last league games:

Chemawa 60—Oregon School for the Deaf 27.

Chemawa 42—St. Paul 34

Chemawa 60—St. Paul 44

Chemawa 48—Mill City 49

(play-off game)

Season record—9 wins, 11 losses

League record—8 wins, 8 losses

The Chemawa "B" squad finished the season with three more victories, giving them a season's record of 15 won and 4 lost. They finished second in league play with 13 wins and 3 losses.
