

SENIOR GIRLS START BANQUET DRESSES

The senior girls went to Salem on February 11 to pick out and buy materials for their banquet dresses. They had selected patterns before going and bought those first. Miss Alice Seaver, their teacher, had collected samples, and with the help of these and by shopping around for ideas, the girls were able to make their choices. They found the new cotton materials to be very nice, and the girls are eager to start making their dresses.

AT THE DORMITORIES

LETTERMEN ENTERTAIN

The Lettermen gave a party at McNary Hall, Saturday evening, February 13. Their guests were Margaret Kennerly, Yvonne Choate, Florine Hall, Arlene Vaile, Gladys Hellon, Marie Barr, Winnie Foster, Ramona Tulee, Shirley Faulkner, Georgia Lucei, Ellen Michael, Dixie Sellars, Delores Bennett, and Ada Colfax, and James Godowa, a former Chemawa student. Mrs. Ann Bjorg, McNary Hall matron, and Mr. E. B. Hudson, boys' advisor, were chaperones for the party.

There were games such as cards and checkers, and also dancing. Those who wished to, watched television. Punch and doughnuts were served for refreshments. Everyone had a very nice time.

Committees for the party were: entertainment, Farrell Galloway, Jay Harwood, and Orin Allen; and refreshments, Cyril LaClair, Arthur Lane, and Howard George.

Big Night at Winona Hall

On Monday evening, February 15, the Winona Hall girls gave their building a complete cleaning in preparation for open house. The girls are anxious to make open house a success.
