Tenth Grade Hears About Radar Sonnar

Mr. Bramlet, who is a lieutenant commander in the naval reserves, recently went on a weekend cruise from Portland to Astoria and back. This kind of trip is taken twice a year by men in the naval reserves to give each of them the opportunity to see the job done which he is learning to do.

Marie Barr wrote as follows about Mr. Bramlet's visit to their classroom and his talk after the cruise.

"Mr. Johannaber asked Mr. Bramlet to tell our tenth grade about scientific aids used in sailing a ship, because that was what we were studying. Mr. Bramlet told us of the importance of radar and sonnar to the safety of a ship. I didn't know that such instruments were used in peacetime."

"Now if I were a boy it would be my ambition to join the navy and learn all about ships. I have been thinking about it ever since I heard Mr. Bramlet's talk. I wouldn't mind learning the interesting ship language. You should hear it; it's quite different!"

English IV Classes Study Literature Forms

English IV classes taught by Mrs. Arthur Johannaber, are having a unit on the forms of writing. After learning about biography, students found and read biographical material in magazines and encyclopedias and gave short oral reports on it. Now each student has selected a biography to read and report upon as outside reading.

The second form studied was the essay. Students found that much of what they read is in essay form. Each student evaluated an essay assigned for reading.

The next form to be studied is poetry. Tape recordings will be used in several ways for this.

Ninth Grade Has Honor Roll

Qualifying for the ninth grade honor roll with no grade below B in English, mathematics, social studies, and vocational subjects, are Frances McGriff, Kenneth Fox, Marilyn Luke, Willard Skahan, Thamer Perry, Stanford Townsend, Esther Scott, Milton Tatooed, Marilyn Charles, and Wilma James.

The honor roll was instituted by Mrs. James Johnston, ninth grade teacher, at the beginning of the third term which began January 11 and ended March 12.

Miss Morse Resumes Teaching Class

Miss Beatrice Morse is again teaching the senior-junior class in American problems. Mr. Paul Bramlet, superintendent, taught the class during the third quarter.

Town Dating Is Scheduled

At a meeting of department heads, it was decided that a Sunday town dating schedule might be set up for March 28, April 25, and May 9. When the plan was presented to student councilors, they thought it was a good idea; that in this way they would learn about standards of boy-girl relations. Groups of students met with Mrs. Brannon or advisers to talk over standards for town and movie dating and a very satisfactory understanding was reached.

Boys who have asked a girl to attend a movie on Sunday will deposit $3.50 with the boys' adviser by Friday night. They will each purchase two bus tickets. Dress clothing will be worn.

Smile

The good weather the first week in March made everyone want to be outside. A lot of cameras were seen.

Scouts Spend Weekend At Warm Springs

Warm Springs boy scouts were hosts to twenty-five Chemawa boy scouts and explorer scouts for the weekend of March 12-14. The scouts were accompanied on the trip by Mr. Charles Holmes, explorer scoutmaster, and Mr. Merlin Crawford.

On Friday night, Mr. Holmes showed the film, What's New in Our Military? An explorer scout showed a film taken at the Los Angeles jamboree.

Saturday morning was spent playing volleyball, softball, etc. That afternoon all of the scouts went hiking and sightseeing to Warm Springs River. They cooked their supper.

A tournament of eight five-minute basketball games was played by the boys on Saturday night. Chemawa won three games, tied two, and lost three.

The Chemawa scouts left Warm Springs at 10:00 a.m. Sunday. They went south toward Madras and Redmond, then cut across through Sisters, came over Santiam pass, and reached Chemawa at 5:00 p.m.

The boys who made the trip learned many things, enjoyed new sights, and met new boys. It really was worthwhile.
