

AUTO SHOP GETS NEW TEACHING DEVICE

The auto shop is quite enthused about a new electronic projector they have received. The projector uses a film strip which is synchronized with a phonograph record so that the story is told as the pictures are shown. One of the most interesting films is an animated one about combustion. The air is pictured as a huge blue man, the fuel is the little yellow man, and the ignition is the little red man. When all three get together under the proper conditions, a big explosion takes place. This is combustion.

The shop has also been very busy repairing the autos that have been put out of operation by the cold weather and high water.

'Y' ACTIVITIES

Each month 100 students, boys and girls, enjoy a 'Fun Time' at the Y.W.C.A. This includes a swim, games and refreshments. These are held on alternate Sundays. Students from Willamette University and Mrs. Cocking direct the activities, while members of the Salem Council of Churches provide cookies and coffee. Students pay for the services of the life guards. This is the fifth year that this activity has been carried on. We take this opportunity to express our 'Thank You' to the Salem women members of the Salem Council of Churches, Mrs. Cocking, director of the Y. W. C. A. of Salem and the others who have helped in providing this happy time for the Chemawa students.

During the past month the "Y Teen Club" of the Salem Y.W.C.A. under the direction of Mrs. Bobbett has come to Winona Hall to have a 'Hooten-nanny' with a group of Winona Hall girls. The Y-Teens furnish the cookies and the Winona girls the drink.

Christmas time has been a busy time for the students who are members of the band and chorus. On December 22, the music department gave a concert for the students and staff at the school. The concert consisted of band and choir numbers and was concluded with the student body singing some of their favorite Christmas songs. Mr. Eldon Wolfe directed the band and chorus and also led the group singing.

Since we enjoyed the program so much everyone is looking forward to the music department making a yearly affair of the Christmas concert.

8D CLASS DINNER

It is said that, "The proof is in the pudding." The eight D class would have to agree that the "Proof is in the dinner." Last October our class set as a goal the earning of enough money to have a class party at Christmas time. The money was earned five and ten cents at a time, with the selling of coffee, donuts, cookies and greeting cards.

On December 21, the class met at Marshall's Inn for their dinner. George Jim was master of ceremonies, Irene Mitchell gave the invocation, and Damon Begay gave the introductions of guests. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. S. Hendren, Mr. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Grape, Laberta Schwartz, Wilfred Shay, Julie Dish, Stella Becenti, David Yazzi, Donna Begay, Mary Bennett, Levi Lott, Lawrence Kobuk, Annie Amy Benally, Rena Nez, Stanley Begay, and Robert Joey.

After the dinner we went to the Elsiore Theatre for the showing of, "Bridge on the River Kwai."

INVITED OUT BY FRIENDS

The Pringle Friends Church group were invited out to dinner. There were six of us girls and four boys. We were divided into four groups. Gloria and I were invited to Mr. and Mrs. Kampstra's home. They have two sons and two daughters. They were good to be with. We played games with them. Then we had the Christmas dinner.

After we ate, Gloria and I helped with the dishes, then we went for a ride. We enjoyed our visit which was all too short.

PEP CLUBS MARCH IN VETERANS DAY PARADE

Over 80 members of the Junior and Varsity Pep Club marched in Salem's Veterans Day parade. Mr. Wolfe marched with the five drummers who set the pace. The yell kings made their first public appearance. They are Tommy Wheeler, George Kudrin, Mark A. Hiratsuka, Eugene McKaren and James Jackson. Despite the rain and cold each marcher was in line and step. Chemawa is proud of the group.

Chemawa School employed the services of a social worker in August of 1962. We are the only Indian school to have these specialized services at this time.

Many of the Public School systems throughout the country have used the services of social workers for a number of years in helping students who seem to be having difficulty adjusting to school life, working with the families of these students to help them to understand the student's needs, as well as the school. This service to the student, his family, and the school, enables the student to have a more successful educational experience.

Social Service in a boarding school is somewhat different from Public Schools because the families of our students live so far away. Therefore the social worker must work through other social workers in the student's home area. He seeks the assistance of other resources to help the students achieve a more full and successful life.

TALENT SHOW

On November 27 and 28, the students of Chemawa put on a talent show. It was a lot of fun for us that took part and I know that the student body enjoyed it very much. Most of us were quite nervous before the show began but as we began most of us got a little braver.

We had a variety of activities from singing, playing instruments, reading poetry, and just plain clowning around. A couple of the highlights of the show were our musical group called The Northern Lights, and the solo singing of Orrin John. It is hoped that next year more students will take part. All of us that took part felt that it was very worthwhile for us as well as the audience.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Under the direction of Mrs. Long and Lucy Pitka Winona and McBride girls made 65 small Christmas trees and five Christmas decorations for the Elderest Convalescent Hospital. Mrs. Patty Lane made arrangements for the girls to deliver their decorations and visit with some of the patients.
