Graduation Largest In School's History

Even the weather cooperated with the class of '67 to provide beauty and blessing to the outdoor commencement exercises, May 24, 1967.

The largest graduating class in the history of the school gazed out upon wet sidewalks and a drizzly sky as they donned their caps and gowns for the long awaited day. A few minutes after the Chemawa Band sturck up the strains of the processional, the sun came out and added its beauty to the occasion.

The 205 seniors marched out upon the lawn in the center of the campus complex, and were seated in the seats directly in front of the speakers platform.

Relatives, guests, and students were seated in the portable bleachers, which were arranged in a horseshoe formation around the seniors.

After the national anthem Evelyn McLaughlin, one of the graduates, gave the invocation. Follow-
