

OUR GROUP REPORTS

Students who were fortunate enough to have been selected to go on the All American Tour last summer were given an opportunity to share their with the rest of the student body. They presented two assembly programs in the auditorium where different members of the group reported on their trip.

Dividing themselves up into two sections they reported on such interesting areas as; National Parks and National Shrines, famous cities and their famous buildings, Expo 67, and the Nations Capital, and some chose to relate some of the more harrowing experiences of 39 days of bus travel.

The program was concluded with a series of slides, many of which had been taken by students themselves and depicted typical sights that a person sees on this 39 state jaunt around America.

Students who made the trip are; Sheila Aga, Jane Akootchook, Murphy Cleveland, Margaret Garner, Don Jackson, Ron Norrell, Ray Penetac, Walter Sampson, John Sharkey, Eve Soplu, Billy Tickett, Dan Snyder, Clara Van Winkle, and Ellaney Yazzie.

Students Attended

Five students left Chemawa, December 4, to attend the annual Navajo Youth Conference, which was held at Many Farms Boarding School, Chinlee, Arizona.

Lillie Crank, Anna Mann, and Damon Begay were the Navajo delegates. Two Alaskan students accompanied them again this year as special guests. They were Eva Wilson, and Peter Nanok. Mr. Reginald Begay accompanied them as the adult faculty escort.

Lillie Crank was selected to represent Chemawa in the oratorical contest. She spoke on the theme of "Meeting The Challenge" and rated third in the overall competition.

The group drove to Arizona, leaving Chemawa early Monday morning and spending the first night at Boise, Idaho, the second at Spanish Fork, Utah, and arriving at Many Farms late on the third evening.

The return trip was by a different route, through California and up the freeway. This gave the students a chance to see some different geographical areas.

NEW ZEALAND'S MAORIS DANCE FOR STUDENTS

One of the most interesting program groups that has visited the Chemawa Campus this year has been a troupe of 30 Maori Dancers from New Zealand.

The Maoris who are the native Polynesian people of the island are closely related to Hawaiians.

They are on a good will mission to The United States as a part of an organization interested in the preservation of their native past.

Dressed in Polynesian costumes, they presented a series of songs and dances taken from the traditions and ceremonies of their ancestors.

After the program they remained on campus to visit with the students and attend a Chemawa ball game in the afternoon.

Youth Conference

Chemawa's Delegates to the Navajo Youth Conference Anna Marie Mann, Peter Nanok, Lillie Ruth Crank, Damon Begay, and Eva Wilson.

Carolers Sing

Christmas caroling was great fun for Chemawa's Choir and to prove their point they accepted an invitation to carol at the Meier and Frank Department Store in Salem.

Chemawa's Varsity Basketball Team won the ninth annual Holiday Tournament which was played at MacLaren School December 7, 8, and 9, 1967.

First tournament play for Chemawa saw every member of the squad on the scoreboard as they took on Valsetz. The Braves managed to pile up 102 points, while holding the Valsetz quint to only 16.

Friday's game found the Braves going against Portland Christian and with one of the Indian's starters, (Wilbur Begay), out of the action. Begay had suffered a bruised foot Friday at school. In spite of this handicap, Chemawa managed to down the strong Portland five with a score of 50 to 44.

In the finals Saturday evening the Indians were at full strength as they took on last seasons tournament champs, Colton. The score was deadlocked at the end of regular play 75 - 75. However in a three minute overtime period, Chemawa was able to pick up 6 to Colton's 2, to come out on top 81 to 77.

The three highest scorers on the Braves team, Kee Wilson 68 points, Jimmie Charlie 46, and Wilbur Begay 26 (in two games), were named on the tournament all-stars. Richard Koso was mentioned for his fine defensive play.

Other members of the squad were Frank Adams, Calvin Fred, Percy Frisby, Hubert Hopson, Tom Katony, Sam Leavitt, Nick Lekanoff, and Fred Tukrook.

BARBERING STARTED

A student barber shop has been set up at Mitchell Hall. It will give training to some of the students and will make it easier for others to get hair cuts. The shop will be open each weekday after 4:00 P.M.

Mr. John is the faculty sponsor and the boys who are assisting him are: Murphy Cleveland, Raymond Titus, and David Towksjhea. Each student is scheduled to work 10 hours a week in the shop.

Barber chairs, nylon jackets, neck tissue, and talcum were purchased by the boys department.

Other students are allowed to use the barber shop during non-scheduled hours.
