

Winona Slumber Party

The Winona Hall girls had a slumber party November 2, 1968. We had our refreshment at 10:00. We slept any place we wanted to that night. Some of us stayed up until 4 or 5:00 a.m. We put our mattress on the floor. Some girls watched T.V. while others just stayed in the room and did something else. We slept in til 10:00 on Sunday morning.

It was our linen change that day so we all had to get up at 10:00 to change our linen. They sold us donuts and coffee.

After all, we had an exciting slumber party.

Eat a high protein breakfast—eggs and meat. Coffee alone is not enough.

Smart Ants

An inept golfer once drove his tee shot onto an anthill. After many swings, he demolished the anthill but still had not hit the ball. At this point one of the two ants still alive turned to the other and said: "If we're going to survive—we had better get on the ball!"

Braves Conclude Season with a Win

Chemawa Braves have concluded one of their most successful football seasons of recent years.

The final game of the regular season against Santiam will have to go down in the records as one of the highlights of A-2 gridiron activity.

Chemawa drew first blood when Little Richard Koso caught a pass amidst a host of defenders and literally squirmed his way for the remaining eight yards to get the score. The Braves missed on the extra point and Santiam came back with a counter to tie it up at 6 all.

Late in the second period Santiam capitalized on a Chemawa error to score again, and end the half with the Braves on the short end of a 6-13 score.

Early in the third quarter, Cook intercepted a pass and scampered 65 yards for another Braves score, the last five yards of which he carried a Santiam tackler on his back.

The extra point made it 13 all until late in the fourth quarter when the Braves maintained a 30 yard sustained drive with Anthony Melovidov carrying across for the final score to make it 19-13 for the Braves.

Santiam threatened once more but was unable to muster the power to score.

Both teams played excellent ball and it was a real crowd thriller all the way.

This leaves the Braves with a 3 win, 5 loss record for League play. Congratulations to Coach Bartlett and his spunky little squad.
