

MAR , 7 1969

CHEMAWA AMERICAN

OREGON
COLLECTION

VOLUME 65

CHEMAWA, OREGON, MARCH 1969

NUMBER 5

BUSINESS ED. VARIES LEARNING ACTIVITIES

...and it goes on like this.

Bill Field shows Fred Huntington how to adjust a mat for reproduction on the offset press.

CHORAL CONCERT A SUCCESS

The 4th Annual Winter Concert, presented by the Music Department, was held Monday evening, March 10th, in the school auditorium.

A crowd of several hundred people attended the concert. All who were there agreed that it was a concert worth remembering.

The Chairman of the Music Department, Eldon R. Wolfe, Education Specialist (Fine Arts), can be proud of the fine performances given by the students.

The groups that performed were the 'A' Choir, the Happy Valley Singers, the Mixed Chorus and the Girls' Triple Trio.

Selections ranged from 18th Century Bach to present-day Jean Berger.

It was an evening which will long be remembered by all who attended.

Nick Krukoff

Chemawa's Business Education Department has something new to offer students. In addition to the 20 regularly scheduled classes, a Graphic Arts Center has been established.

Shield Downey, Harry Moore, William Field, Henry Lupie, Fred Huntington, Bert Jones, Nick Krukoff and Albert Asteriak have become experienced operators of an offset.

The artistic abilities of Eddie Lee and Raymond Hosteen have been used to good advantage in maintaining an authentic Indian setting in the illustrations and designs for programs and stationery that has been produced by the group.

Students from Typing II and Office Practice classes are scheduled each month to work in various offices on the campus. It is felt that the practical experience gained by working in an office is invaluable.

After 3:00 every day you'll find our gals Friday, Jane Akootchook, Kathy Galeshoff Doreen Edwardsen helping their peers with Federal and State Income Tax forms.

Barbara Cleveland and Olive Nichols are currently Clerk Trainees at the Social Security Administration. On completion of their training, they may be offered permanent employment.

Almost any evening you will find Nick Krukoff working frantically at the VariTyper trying to meet a deadline.

Without the cooperation of the entire staff, this program would not be possible.

Nick Krukoff

3RD QUARTER ENDS
MARCH 21