

Banquet, Skip Day Planned

The Senior Class officers have planned most of the last month schedule for the Class of 1972.

The Senior Banquet will be held May 20 at the Putnam Center on the Willamette University Campus. The entertainment will be introduced by the senior class Toastmaster, Gale Louie. Mr. Al Ouchi, the Superintendent, will be guest speaker. The program will also feature award presentations, a reading of the class will and prophecies, a farewell to the senior girls (from the boys) and a farewell to the senior boys (from the girls).

The Happy Valley Singers (Choral Ensemble) will sing for the banquet. A dance will be held immediately afterwards, and all staff members are invited.

The Senior Skip Day will take members of the Class of '72 on an all-day picnic to Cape Lookout on the Oregon Coast.

Final plans for Baccalaureate and Graduation are still being worked out. Seniors are busy buying outfits for the banquet, paying cap and gown fees, buying announcements and rings—and getting in their last quarter's assignments.

Something new has been added to the quad—miniature golf. Pat Kvasnikoff watches Richard Johnson line up a putt on one of the nine holes installed between Winona and Hawley Halls. The new sport has become very popular with students in a short time.

Four Students Ride with Sheriff

Four students from the model class, Rita George, Ned Griest, Frances Patrick and Fred Walker, went on a field trip to Silverton in a patrol car with Corporal Thomas of the Marion County Sheriff's Patrol on March 27.

The purpose of the field trip was to give the students an idea of what the duties of a patrolman are and also to see what it is like to go on a patrol.

"It was fun," said Frances Patrick, describing the trip. "It was exciting, and I wouldn't mind being a patrolman because it seems to be very interesting."

Choir Prepares for Concert

The Choral Ensemble and A Choir are busily getting ready for and putting the final touches to the music they will be singing for the Spring Concert May 5 and the Senior Banquet May 20.

Only the Choral Ensemble will sing for the banquet. They will perform eight songs: "Exodus," "The Sound of Silence," "Everything Is Beautiful," "We've Only Just Begun," "Scarborough Fair," "Close to You," and "Georgy Girl."

Both choirs and the band will perform for the entire student body at the Spring Concert. If the weather is good, the concert will be held outdoors on the main quad. In case of bad weather, the groups will move to the Auditorium.

The Ensemble will again be singing eight songs. Each member of the Ensemble is also learning how to conduct the others in a song.

This trip is one of many projects the model class has been working on. They have been taking field trips in the Portland, Salem and Eugene areas.

The model class so far has studied units in air pollution, drugs and alcohol, juvenile delinquency and marriage and family. They have also held "mini classes" in subjects ranging from philosophies to "how to buy a used car", note taking and research papers. They have also found time to study guitar playing.

Winona Tries New Ideas

Winona Hall, the biggest dorm at Chemawa, has been trying out new ideas for recreation and dorm life.

The dorm this year has a population of 170 girls with two to six girls in a room.

The staff consists of 12 aides. The aides make the girls feel more at home by giving them someone to talk to when they get lonesome. Each aide has a unit of 16 to 20 girls.

The aides were asked how they liked working with the girls. Miss Francine Phair said, "I really enjoyed working with the girls, and it was a great experience."

Mrs. Linda Goulden added, "I liked working with my girls and the staff."

The Instructional Aide and Supervisor for the dorm is Mrs. Lorene Phillips. The counselors are Mrs. Myrna McMurtry and Mrs. Martha Hutchins. Miss Arlene Colon is the Dormitory Manager.

The Winona Hall Dorm Council consists of Jean Morris, President; Loretta Samuels, Secretary; Karen Pinkham, Treasurer; Sarah George, Representative.

Throughout the year the different individual units have taken trips to many places. Ka-nee-ta, in Warm Springs, the Portland Zoo, bowling and movies in Salem, mountain trips and hikes.

They have had slumber parties in the dorm and are learning handcrafts also. The girls with the best-looking room get treated to a steak dinner off campus.

The different units will be taking more trips and planning more parties before the year ends. Some of them will go to the Ice Follies in Portland or on a hike to Silver Creek Falls near Silverton. They also plan overnight camping trips, and date parties on the patio of Winona. The whole dorm will be going to the beach on May 4.

Mrs. Phillips says, "The students and staff are looking forward to an even better appearance and life in Winona Hall before the year is over."
