Regular Matinee Saturday

One of the most powerful and gripping plays ever seen in this city has been chosen by Manager Geo. L. Baker with which to open the season of the famous Baker Stock Company Sunday matinee. This is the widely advertised newspaper play, "The Fourth Estate," which on account of its being written about newspaper people and their relations to politicians, and having one big scene which takes place in the composing room of a big morning New York daily, has naturally aroused the newspaper people to take more than passing notice of it. A rising young newspaper man falls in love with the daughter of a judge who is using his position to feather his nest with certain corporations. But love nor the offer of large bribes, threats, nor anything stands in the way of this same young managing editor doing what he considers his sacred duty to his public, and the development of the story many thrilling situations arise. It is a play which all classes of people can understand and enjoy, especially when played as the Baker company will play it. Manager Baker has been all season securing plays and players for this special stock season and for his two leading people has secured Willard Mack and Maude Leone, both stock people of wide experience and splendid reputations. They are bound to create a sensation in this city from the moment of their first appearance. Every other member is an actor or actress with like reputations and what promises to be the biggest season ever known in the history of Portland stock (which means Baker stock) will open Sunday matinee. Prices have been placed at the original Baker stock rates that made the company so immensely popular, and every Monday night will be bargain night. Matinees will be given Sunday and Saturday only.

T. L. Perkins

Republican Candidate for

State Senator

Dr. Perkins is a Spanish war veteran, serving in Battery A, Oregon Light Artillery. Strong supporter of the initiative and referendum, including Statement No. 1, the recall and all laws tending to place the Government in the hands of the people. Believes in exempting $300 worth of household goods from taxation, strict laws regarding the sale of firearms and appointment of special grand juries by the circuit court. Stands for all that pertains to a "Greater Oregon".

EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES.

size and weight had been determined agents.

Witness Kent said he had been called a "scab" and all of the witnesses said that the picketers followed them on all occasions and made life unbearable to them with their insults. When shown the picture of Wortman, all readily picked him out as the most active and vicious, as well as the foulest in his expressions of all the picketers.

The picketers threatened Maki. They said they would throw him into the river and every week he was informed that they would knock off his "block." They knocked him unconscious at one time with brass knuckles and he remained away from the shop a whole week because he was in fear of attack.

A sneaking picketer tried to strike Witness Kent from behind, but he turned in time to prevent a blow in the head, but his pipe

What Does the Salary Bag Hold for YOU?

Yes, that is a personal question, a very personal question—one that affects your whole life; and yet you would thank us for asking it if you knew what an immense power for betterment we could be to you and your salary.

To draw a small salary month after month, year after year, is your own fault. It is pure negligence and nothing else, for there is an institution that is ever ready to enable you to rise to the highest, best paying positions in the profession of your choice—no matter how poor your circumstances may be, how old or how young you are, no matter where you live. And to prove this the I. C. S. points to hundreds of thousands of other men who have secured advancement and success through the I. C. S. plan; to hundreds of others in worse circumstances than you are, whose stories of advancement read like romance; to a growth from a mere idea with one Course of Instruction to one of the largest educational institutions in existence with 208 Courses of Instruction, backed by a capital of six million dollars, and a total enrollment far in excess of any other college—a growth made possible only as the result of success in its business—and the business of this place is to raise salaries.

Without doubt this plan is the most practical, the quickest, easiest, and cheapest way in the world for YOU to secure a better position and increased earnings. It puts you under no obligation whatever to send us this coupon and allow our experts to explain our system of instruction, and adapt a Course to your personal needs.

Do you really want to earn more salary? Would you like the salary bag to yield you more each week or month? Then make a definite attempt to bring this about by sending in this coupon. Tomorrow never comes. Do it today.

Please explain, without further obligation on my part, how I can qualify for a larger salary and advancement to the position before which I have marked X.

was completely smashed into pieces. Nearly all the witnesses it seems were men of smaller stature than the picketers.

Attorney Davis does not like Attorney Malarkey's constant references to him as a private prosecutor. The latter maintained his right to use this phrase, and though Judge Gatens intimated that the jury knew the position Mr. Davis occupies in the case, he did not positively prohibit the term.

Mr. Davis proposes to place witnesses on the stand in rebuttal of the testimony adduced by the defense, and to show that Wortman was a non-prophane and mild-mannered man.
