Book Reviews

Fame-Seekers, by Alice Woods $1.20. Illustrated. George H. Doran Co., New York City.

With illustrations by May Wilson Preston, this attractive novel depicts with cleverness an American artist-story of Bohemian Paris, known and Tribly Land.

The Under Trail, by Anna Alice Chapin. $1.25. Illustrated. Little, Brown & Co., Boston.

Hate, love and a secret crosscut trail in the Virginia Mountains make up this attractive novel of the Southland. The characters are exceedingly well drawn.

Beggars and Scorners, by Allan McAulay. $1.25. John Yane Co., New York City.

An historical novel well worth reading—harking back to the triumphs won in a similar department by Charles Major—depicting the struggles, intrigues, loves and hates of Scotch Jacobite exiles in Holland, after the memorable battle of Culloden in Scotland in 1745, when the English army, under the Duke of Cumberland, smashed the hopes of Bonnie Prince Charlie and his adherents.

The Mission of Victoria Wilhelmina, by Jeanne Bartholow Magoon. $1. B. W. Huebsch. New York City.

Told with singular pathos, this story of a young girl's experiences in New York City, and in the form of a diary depicts how she met the inevitable man, was deceived by him and went wrong. He was her employer. A baby came, who died shortly after she was born, and was named after the present Queen of Spain and the Queen of Holland. As the title of the little book indicates, this publication strives to fulfill a mission, and ought to serve as a terrible warning. It may, and may not.

Marcus Alonzo Hanna: His Life and Work. By Herbert Croly. With portrait. The Macmillan Co. $2.50 net.

The attitude of too many reformers toward politicians of the old school is a Pharisaic attitude of condemnation, as if those gentlemen had been guilty of personal unrighteousness in being what they were. Mr. Croly, in writing the life of "Mark" Hanna, sees the falsity of this attitude.

Marcus Hanna certainly did stand for what we now call privilege, but Mr. Croly shows us that he did not deliberately choose it after seeing a vision of privilege on the one hand and purity and democracy on the other hand. To him no such vision was granted. He was a product of contemporary conditions. "Only one explanation will account for his peculiar success. He must have embodied in his own life and purposes some vital American social and economic tradition which gave his personality, individual as it was, more than an individual meaning and impulse." This tradition, thinks Mr. Croly, was that of the pioneer.

In a little pamphlet entitled, "The Church and the Workingman" (Golden Rule Publishing Co., Nashua, N. H., price 10 cents), the Rev. Edgar F. Blanchard finds that the underlying purpose of the Mosaic Poor Laws and of the early Christian church was "to prevent destitution and distress, rather than to help people as objects of charity after they had come to distress"; and prophesies that the new church soon to appear will be "a Religious Brotherhood—a religious system organized on positive ethical and fraternal principles." From this combination of lodge, labor union and church, the workingman will not stay away.

NEWS FROM OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL

Passage of Parcels Post Bill by Congress Regarded as Almost Certain.

Washington.—Legislation providing for a general parcels post throughout the United States and its possessions, except the Philippine Islands, virtually is certain to be enacted by the present congress, perhaps before the conclusion of this session, in the opinion of Postmaster-General Hitchcock.

In the judgment of the officers of the postal service, the new bill represents the most scientific plan yet devised for a parcels post. It provides for a parcels service throughout the country on both rural routes and city carrier routes. It consolidates the third and fourth classes of mail matter and raises the weight limit of parcels to 11 pounds.

The rate to be charged for articles carried in the rural route service and city carrier service is five cents for the first pound or fraction of a pound and one cent for each additional pound or fraction of a pound. For the general parcels post service, which covers all mail transportation other than local delivery by rural or city carriers, graduated rates would be fixed based on distance.

Commerce Court Funds Are Cut Off.
Only the signature of the president is required now to abolish the Commerce Court.

The legislating out of existence of that tribunal, created only two years ago and which the supreme court of the United States recently asserted had exceeded its powers, was determined upon when the senate by a vote of 26 to 23 defeated an amendment to make provision in the legislative, executive, and judicial appropriation bill for maintaining the court.

This put both houses of congress in accord on the question of abolishing the court. If the president signs the bill, the judges of the Commerce Court will resume work as members of the various circuit courts of appeal, if they are not dropped out of office altogether. Railroad cases will be handled by the district courts.

House Favors Borah Bill.
The house irrigation committee has favorably reported the Borah bill which passed the senate, directing that patents be issued to all homesteaders on government irrigation projects as soon as they comply with the homestead law and cultivate half their entry, the government to retain a lien upon the land to cover all unpaid water charges. This will enable reclamation settlers to get title in three years instead of waiting ten or more as now required by law.

Proceed to Impeach Hanford.
Berger, of Wisconsin, the socialist member of congress, began proceedings of impeachment against Judge Hanford, on the federal bench at Seattle, who recently revoked the citizenship of Leonard Olsson, of that city, on the ground that at the time he was admitted as a citizen he was not as a matter of fact willing to uphold the constitution of the United States, as the law requires.

Representative Berger charged Judge Hanford with "high crimes and misdemeanors," citing a long series of decisions which he characterizes as unlawful, and also alleges that the judge is an habitual drunkard. The house adopted Berger's resolution directing the judiciary committee to make an investigation.

Cuba Must Suppress Insurrection.
The United States government, it is believed, has given President Gomez of Cuba a week in which to suppress the negro insurrection.

Five thousand American troops are resting on their arms awaiting orders to embark for Cuba, but the war department stated that the soldiers would not move until the force of American marines landed at Guantanamo had proved insufficient to cope with the situation. Cable messages show that the rebellion is spreading rapidly. Outbreaks are reported near Havana.

National Capital Brevities.
The Borah-Jones three years' homestead bill was signed by President Taft in the presence of a delegation of western congressmen.

The interstate commerce committee reported favorably the bill to prevent reproduction of the Johnson-Flynn prize fight moving pictures.

The navy department ordered Admiral Osterhaus to proceed forthwith from Key West to Havana with one dispatch ship and one other ship. These orders were issued after the receipt of a dispatch from Minister Beaupre reporting that conditions in Havana had assumed the character of a race war.

The house voted 144 to 101, not to accept the senate amendment to the metal tariff revision bill, which would repeal the Canadian reciprocity pact and fix a universal duty of $2-a-ton on print paper. The house accepted two senate amendments reducing the duty on pig iron and on certain alloys. The bill will again go to conference.

Money in Her Own Name.
