Book Reviews

Fame-Seekers, by Alice Woods. $1.20. Illustrated. George H. Doran Co., New York City.

With illustrations by May Wilson Preston, this attractive novel depicts with cleverness an American artist-story of Bohemian Paris, known and Trilby Land.

The Under Trail, by Anna Alice Chapin. $1.25. Illustrated. Little, Brown & Co., Boston.

Hate, love and a secret crosscut trail in the Virginia Mountains make up this attractive novel of the Southland. The characters are exceedingly well drawn.

Beggars and Scorners, by Allan McAulay. $1.25. John Yane Co., New York City.

An historical novel well worth reading—harking back to the triumphs won in a similar department by Charles Major—depicting the struggles, intrigues, loves and hates of Scotch Jacobite exiles in Holland, after the memorable battle of Culloden in Scotland in 1745, when the English army, under the Duke of Cumberland, smashed the hopes of Bonnie Prince Charlie and his adherents.

The Mission of Victoria Wilhelmina, by Jeanne Bartholow Magon. $1. B. W. Huebsch, New York City.

Told with singular pathos, this story of a young girl's experiences in New York City, and in the form of a diary depicts how she met the inevitable man, was deceived by him and went wrong. He was her employer. A baby came, who died shortly after she was born, and was named after the present Queen of Spain and the Queen of Holland. As the title of the little book indicates, this publication strives to fulfill a mission, and ought to serve as a terrible warning. It may, and may not.

Marcus Alonzo Hanna: His Life and Work. By Herbert Croly. With portrait. The Macmillan Co. $2.50 net.

The attitude of too many reformers toward politicians of the old school is a Pharisaic attitude of condemnation, as if those gentlemen had been guilty of personal unrighteousness in being what they were. Mr. Croly, in writing the life of "Mark" Hanna, sees the falsity of this attitude.

Marcus Hanna certainly did stand for what we now call privilege, but Mr. Croly shows us that he did not deliberately choose it after seeing a vision of privilege on the one hand and purity and democracy on the other hand. To him no such vision was granted. He was a product of contemporary conditions. "Only one explanation will account for his peculiar success. He must have embodied in his own life and purposes some vital American social and economic tradition which gave his personality, individual as it was, more than an individual meaning and impulse." This tradition, thinks Mr. Croly, was that of the pioneer.

In a little pamphlet entitled, "The Church and the Workingman" (Golden Rule Publishing Co., Nashua, N. H., price 10 cents), the Rev. Edgar F. Blanchard finds that the underlying purpose of the Mosaic Poor Laws and of the early Christian church was "to prevent destitution and distress, rather than to help people as objects of charity after they had come to distress"; and prophesies that the new church soon to appear will be "a Religious Brotherhood—a religious system organized on positive ethical and fraternal principles." Fro labor union and church, the workingman will not stay away.

NEWS FROM OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL

House Would Do Away With Land Office Receivers and Give Work to Clerk.

Washington.—Unless the senate amends the sundry civil bill and restores the old order of things, receivers of local land offices will pass into history June 30. The house committee on appropriations, in framing the sundry civil bill, abolished the office of receiver and transferred the duties of that office to the register. This was in accordance with the recommendation that has been made many times by the general land office.

Representatives from the public land states fought in vain in the house against the provisions of the bill relating to the land service. The resolution to abolish the offices of receivers of public money and substitute the appointment of chief clerks for land offices went through under a sharp fire. Charges that special land agents abused their positions failed to cut the appropriation of $500,000 to prosecute depredations. Chairman Fitzgerald, of the appropriation committee, defended the bill against attacks led by Representatives Mondell, Hawley, and Burke.

Disagree Over Rivers And Harbors.

The conference committee on the river and harbor bill is deadlocked and after a spirited row adjourned for 10 days. Threats are being made by house members that the whole bill will be defeated unless the senate recedes on some of its larger amendments.

One amendment which brought about a serious disagreement was the senate's increase in the appropriation for the Cello canal from $900,000 to $800,000. The house conferees are insisting that they will not stand for this increase, but senate members of the conference insist that this and all other increases are justified by the recommendations of the army engineers, and that no increases have been made that were not recommended by the war department.

It is understood that none of the other northwestern amendments is attacked by the house, Cello being the largest increase made in that section.

Committee Will Investigate Hanford.

By unanimous vote the house directed a sub-committee of the judiciary committee to go to Seattle, Wash., and other places to investigate the charges against Judge Hanford, of the federal bench, which have arisen from his decision in the Olsson socialist citizenship case.

Chairman Clayton named the following sub-committee to go to Seattle: Representatives Graham, Illinois, chairman; Higgins, of Connecticut, and McCoy of New Jersey.

Timber Industry Ranks Third.

Lumber and timber manufacturers rank third in value among the products of the industries of the United States, according to the 1912 statistics made public by Director Durand.

The census figures show that there were 40,871 lumber and timber establishments and 784,939 persons engaged in the industry.

The value of products was $1,156,126,747. The value added by manufacture, which is the difference between cost of materials and value of products, was $448,011,158.

Louisiana led all other states in number of wage earners, 46,972, and Washington ranked first for value of products, $89,154,825, and value added by manufacture, $52,275,954.

BLUE SKY LAW OPPOSED

Salem People Against New Commission and More Power for Governor.

Salem.—Contending that Blue Sky law, a measure which it is proposed to initiate at the coming election, and which has for its object the regulation of corporations and the creation of a corporation department for the purpose, means but the saddling of another commission on the people and their taxation in an indirect manner to maintain it, a number of people prominent in state affairs here have signified their intention of actively opposing it and predict that when the people are made thoroughly acquainted with the measure, they will vote it down at the polls.

The main objection urged against the bill is that it means the creation of another commission, and additional taxation for its support. Incidental thereto is the minor objection that it gives the governor more power in that the law provides that the corporation commissioner shall be appointed by him, and hold office during his pleasure.
